Scores of Teenagers Partaking in Volunteer Summer Projects Here

He hitch-bikes an hour each way, every day, to spend time talking with a schizophrenic patient at Skillman . . . she signed up for three hours of work a week at the hospital, but she actually puts in ten . . . she works all day in a paying, summer-vacation job, spends volunteer evenings with the sick.

These are the ways a couple of hundred Princeton area teenagers are responding to "How I Spent My Summer Vacation."

At the Princeton Medical Center, the N.J. Neuropsychiatric Institute, Community House, the Child Guidance Day Camp for disturbed children, in the various programs staffed by the Red Cross, you'll find the kids.

The Princeton Medical Center has always had fresh-faced Candy Strippers, identified by red and white striped dresses. But this summer, the hospital has recognized the increased maturity of today's kids by expanding the areas where teens can work. Also, the candy-striped girls have been joined this year by three Junior Corpsmen, in a kind of "boys' lib."

These young volunteers now push the wheel-chairs in which every Medical Center patient must ride for discharge from the hospital.

They transport X-ray or physical therapy patients from one area to another.

In the lab waiting room, where patients must often wait for long periods during complex tests, the teens are receptionist-hostesses, making sure the patient is taken in turn, and reassuring him that he hasn't been forgotten during the long wait.

Senior volunteers, 18 years old or older, are now allowed to be on the emergency room reception desk. For distraught, anxious families, the volunteer will produce a bracing cup of coffee from a mini-kitchen, or bring out magazines and books to pass anxious waiting time.

Another new station for older teen volunteers is the maternity ward. Volunteers answer the desk phone when a patient rings and check visitors in compliance with the stricter visiting hours that are the rule in this department.

"The emergency and maternity assignments are a kind of reward for service," explains Mrs. Deborah Livingston, director of volunteers at the Medical Center, "and four of these girls will be going into nursing as a career."

Four other young volunteers, especially selected, are ward clerks at nursing stations in "Merwick," the Center's extended care center, where many elderly, long-term patients live.

"Merwick" staff members have never had enough people around to answer the bells, take messages, deliver and pick up meal trays. And one young corpsman helps a patient with reading in the rehabilitation program at "Merwick."

One of the most complicated Medical Center jobs is that of information receptionist. The Center keeps track of each patient all the time, including his "Satisfactory," "Fair" or "Critical" condition,

Plans Made for 1,000 Apartments in Township

Four developers with a total of 1,000 apartments in their portfolios have approached the housing sub-committee of the Princeton Regional Planning Board in recent months to ask "When can we go ahead?"

Planning Board member Golda Gottlieb and board counsel William Miller told the Township Zoning Board Tuesday night that if the zoners give a variance to Edward Kopp III so he can build 33 apartments on his 2.3-acre Terhune Road plot, "the flood-gates will open."

Everett Garretson, Zoning Board chairman, and zoning lawyer Ivan Bash, told the Planning Board members that law requires the Zoning Board to decide each case on its own merits.

But Mr. Miller retorted that this was "piece-meal" planning and, in the standard words of the zoning ordinance, "detrimental to the public good."

September Meeting. It will be more than a month from now — Tuesday, September 19 — before the Township Zoning Board sits down again in public meeting to hear the Kopp case.

Earlier this year, the Zoning Board unanimously gave Mr. Kopp the use variance he needs to build his apartments. But when Township Committee had to rule on the Zoning Board's decision, it was found there wasn't enough evidence besides Mr. Kopp's own testimony. So it remanded — sent back — the case to the Zoning Board for a re-run.

Tuesday night, before a sparse audience of scarcely a dozen townspeople (in contrast to a packed house at the first hearing), the Zoning Board listened to Planning Board witnesses urged the zoners not to give Mr. Kopp his variance.

The Planning Board got into the hearings because the board is working on a new policy for multiple housing. (See page 5) The planners think private developers like Mr. Kopp should wait until the new policy has been incorporated into a Master Plan.

The present Master Plan already prohibits multi-family construction in the Township except for public or limited-sponsorship housing like Princeton Community Housing. Construction of private apartments isn't allowed.

Who Is Right? A crucial legal problem arises here. Ivan Bash, attorney for the Zoning Board, says the board isn't legally bound by anything in a Master Plan and can grant Mr. Kopp a variance if it wants to.

Mr. Miller disagrees. He told the Zoning Board Tuesday night that he'll have his own legal opinion in the zoners' hands by September 19.

Mrs. Gottlieb, who is chairman of the Planning Board's housing sub-committee, explained the work of the committee. (See page 5)

To her testimony of Princeton's housing need, Mr. Garretson asked whether people with middle and upper-bracket incomes didn't have housing troubles in Princeton, too, and what about older couples who no longer wanted large homes?

Mrs. Gottlieb said 1970 census data, available only in the last two weeks for the Princeton community, provided information on older couples and that the housing sub-committee was considering that need.

She acknowledged the housing problems of upper-income people, but said at least they didn't have to live in sub-standard housing.

This Is Princeton

"I haven't seen any sub-standard housing in Princeton like the kind they have in New York," said Zoning Board alternate member Alan Jeydel, "and when you talk about 'need,' isn't that just a desire to live as cheaply as possible and have somebody subsidize your rent?"

Mr. Jeydel asked why the present Master Plan allowed 550 units of low-to-middle income public or limited-sponsor housing, but forbade privately-built apartments.

"The Planning Board doesn't care if the Zoning Board grants a variance for public housing, but does care if we do it for upper-income housing, is that what you're saying?" he demanded.

Mrs. Gottlieb replied that low-income housing didn't flood in as fast as privately-built apartments would, if they were allowed, and she cited the length of time it has taken PCH to move with its project. She also said the need for lower rental units was more urgent "and self-evident" than the need for apartments at the higher rentals a private developer would have to charge.

She also reminded the board that both Township Committee and Borough Council had passed resolutions on the need for low-income housing.

"I don't want to see private development until we have a plan that can protect the community in some way," she said.

Mr. Garretson queried Mrs. Gottlieb to find out whether she believed the town had "a moral responsibility to try and provide housing for all residents, regardless of income. Shouldn't the town find a place for higher-income homes?"

"Yes," she replied, "when there is a plan to guide development."

Alfred Price, graduate architecture student, explained a large-scale coded map, which Mr. Miller said was the first map of both Borough and Township, drawn to scale that showed every lot. It was introduced to show that the Township has 4,700 acres of undeveloped land, Mr. Miller said.

At the end of the three-hour hearing, Mr. Garretson suggested a possible referendum to see how the town feels about apartments.

"A substantial number of people may not want multiple-housing of any kind," he said.

At the first of the "remand hearings" held last Wednesday, testimony from Mr. Kopp's witnesses and persistent cross-examination from Mr. Miller, swung on two main points:

- the need for middle-income housing and whether the Kopp project would meet the need.

- the role of a Master Plan in setting forth community policies and making them stick.

Demand Is Ceaseless. The need is "insatiable," declared Ridgely Cook, Princeton real estate broker. "We could double the population of Princeton in five years."

Karl Light, another realtor, said the Palmer Square apartments have a waiting list of 269 people—81 of whom are already residents of Princeton and 84 more who work here. He quoted the 1970-71 survey commissioned by Princeton University which came up with a current shortage of 4,500 low and middle-income units.

Mr. Miller got Mr. Light to concede that the 4,500 figure included a larger area than the two Princetons, and that the precise percentage of

New Consolidation Study Proposed

A new formal study of the consolidation of Borough and Township may be launched next year.

Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley told his press conference Tuesday that he'd discussed the matter with Township Mayor John D. Wallace. The night before, Township Committeeman Jay Belman urged such a Commission for 1973, and his colleagues on Committee agreed. Mayor Wallace was absent on vacation.

Township Committeeman Barbara Smoyer pointed out that consolidation studies had been in the wings so long as Governor William Cahill's tax package was on stage. "But now, let's start pushing for consolidation," she said.

The tax differential between Borough and Townships is said to be the chief barrier to merger. A Princeton University graduate student, William Fischel, is examining the fiscal problem, Mayor Cawley said, adding that he hopes for a report soon.

The last formal consolidation study was completed in 1965. A new one, Mayor Cawley said, would include questions like taxes, the form of government — "maybe a more modern form than we have now" — what representation would be like, perhaps a mixture of ward and at-large seats, synchronization of Borough-Township ordinances and the effect of consolidation on government functions.

The question came up Monday night as Township Committee acted to form a Joint Commission on the Aging with the Borough. Morris Barnett, 249 State Road, rose in the audience to say that he thought consolidation preferable to all joint commissions now in existence, and Committee agreed.

"I think consolidation has got to come," stated Mayor Cawley.

Teen Volunteers

and the youthful volunteer, learning and working under an adult, has a lot of essential detail to master.

At the New Jersey Neuropsychiatric Institute in Skillman, teen volunteers work directly with patients, in a summer day camp held every weekday from 9 until 2:30. Campers in "Camp Casual" are chronically ill, as young as 20 or into the 70's. They are epileptic, schizophrenic, seriously ill with various long-term psychiatric disorders or brain damage.

Assistance Invaluable. "We have found that young people, especially the so-called 'long-hairs', have an unusual sensitivity and ability to relate to the psychiatric patient," says Catherine Quay, director of volunteers at Skillman. "We couldn't run our day camp without them."

At "Camp Casual," patients join in or not, as they choose, and the young volunteer is free to give the patient what he thinks the patient needs. The teenager who casually mentions checkers to a silent, withdrawn man, sees a flicker of interest and gradually gets the man into a checkers game, has made a tremendous contribution to that man's life. And, knowing this, the teen feels that he himself has grown.

During the day, if the weather is fine, "campers" are out doors, perhaps helping to prepare their cook-out lunch. In doors, if it rains, a brain damaged man will play ping-pong with a teen volunteer, or a young girl will delight the life of an elderly epileptic woman by giving her a manicure with bright pink nail polish.

Older patients who have lived all their lives at Skillman, may never have experienced the most fundamental things in life. Teen girls who help an old lady bake a cake from a mix, have brought an experience that may be beyond the woman's wild imagination.

Relationships are on a one-to-one basis, but it isn't necessarily the same "one" every day. Favorites do develop, of course. A young deaf mute, with a restless welcoming smile, runs to hug the arriving volunteer, or a patient will say with feeling, "I like you, I respect you!" Volunteers are asked to be available three days a week, but many work five days, by choice. They return summer after summer, encouraged by Mrs. Quay, who believes that a state institution has a responsibility to kids who may want a career in mental health.

Younger disturbed people are in another day camp, this one operated in Trenton by Child Guidance. Here, the "assistant counselors" perhaps as young as 14, give the kind of individual, personal attention so desperately needed by a disturbed child. The teen volunteer works on puzzles with his young friend, helps him achieve the tremendous psychological triumph of learning to swim, chats with him in the bus on the way to the shore for an excursion.

"A lot of our young volunteers want to be Special Ed. teachers, and they seek out Child Guidance on that account," explains Seymour Silberman, education director for the agency, "but occasionally we have teens who are, themselves, helped in the process of helping others. If a kid has a poor image of himself, he feels better and gets a sense of importance as he helps others."

Assistance Is Varied. Back in Princeton, Community House has 16 Junior Counselors ("Jaycees"), they are called 14-17 years old, who spend summer days with the middle-school boys and girls at Community House.

They accompany the younger kids on daily swim excursions to Dillon Gym, help run workshops in arts and crafts, tutor the youngsters in The Skill Center, help with the tyen cooking or sewing projects at the House, and of course, provide big-brother sister leadership for team games.

Princeton's Red Cross chapter has assigned its 100-plus youth volunteers to a variety of projects. Over 20 work in Lawrence Township's Slackwood School with Special Education children who have behavioral problems. Another 20 or so have been in the Mercer County day camp for retarded children, and the camp operated each summer by the state association for retarded children.

Crafts and music, swimming lessons and trips to the zoo give volunteers a chance to give each child the kind of personal attention a busy professional staff sometimes does not have time to provide.

In another program, staffed by Red Cross volunteers, teens keep an eye on the children of migrant workers while migrant parents are cared for in a Middlesex Hospital clinic.

Red Cross volunteers help in Princeton's playgrounds by providing extra supervision.

We've used the word "volunteer" throughout, but some of the young workers are paid. Child Guidance Community House and the Neuropsychiatric Institute all have paid teen-age helpers who work right alongside the volunteer, usually doing the same kind of person-to-person job that can make the difference between darkness and a little light to another human being.

Public Housing Hearings Are Postponed Until September 5

It will be September before the next round of testimony is heard on the Princeton Housing Authority's plan to build 100 units of public housing on the 14.5-acre parcel at Ewing-Mt. Lucas-State Road.

At the end of Thursday's three hours of testimony before the Township Zoning Board, the board's chairman Everett Garretson announced that the third session will be held Tuesday, September 5, at 8 p.m., presumably in Community Park School.

That second session last week served to conclude the Authority's detailed presentation. The Authority is asking for the use variance to build apartments in a residential zone. It also needs variances related to the size of the land parcel and location of the buildings.

So far, there are about 150 signatures on a petition of opposition. John Graham, lawyer retained by the opponents, said this week that he will base his case on the belief that so sweeping a change ought to be implemented by zoning ordinance and is "not a fit subject for a variance."

He added that the Township's proposed new zoning ordinance, allowing private homeowners to convert some rooms to flats, might help alleviate the shortage of moderately-priced housing, making the public housing proposal "untimely."

A resolution from the Planning Board to the Zoning Board, supporting the Housing Authority, has not yet been read into the record.

Value? At Thursday's meeting, the board heard real estate broker Ridgely Cook testify that in his opinion, the project would have no effect on property values in the area.

He said he had investigated neighborhoods near apartment projects, including public-housing projects, and had found that homes were increasing in value like homes elsewhere in Princeton. He added that he found no "abnormal" number of houses for sale near apartments.

Later, planner Alvin Gershen told the board that new condominium housing at $50-75,000 per unit is now being built on Harrison across the street from Lloyd Terrace's public housing units.

J. Taylor Woodward, zoning board member, asked Mr.

Cook whether the impact on sales in neighboring areas might not be greatest when a public housing project was first announced. Mr. Cook replied that he hadn't found this to be so.

Comparable densities quoted by Mr. Cook are: the proposed project, 9.6 units per acre; Stanworth, 10.2 units; Nassau Arms on Harrison Street, 35.6 units and the Lloyd Terrace project, 20.1 units.

Mr. Graham told the board he would present his own witness with testimony on property values at a later session.

Master Plan. Mr. Gershen, an Authority witness like Mr. Cook, told the board that traffic from the Mt. Lucas-Ewing project would not interfere with traffic from Princeton Community Housing's apartments since the developments are 1.1 miles apart and belong to different traffic patterns.

Mr. Gershen cited the Township's Master Plan amendment of last March setting 550 housing units as an interim figure for low and middle-income groups, to remain as policy until the Planning Board's housing sub-committee completes its research.

"This project harmonizes with the Master Plan," he stated, "we ask a variance from the zoning ordinance to make it conform to the Master Plan, not a variance from public policy."

Pipeline Again. William Nix, gas pipeline expert who testified for the Authority at the first hearing, said again that the Transcontinental pipeline was a safe place for housing. Plans call for two clusters of buildings separated by the pipeline.

He told Mr. Woodward that insurance premiums were no higher for buildings constructed on the line and he told Mr. Garretson the law requires twice yearly testing of all pipeline valves.

After a forestry expert from Rutgers testified that one-third of the vegetation would be removed on the heavily-wooded site, he was asked about the turkey buzzards that frequently hover above the area.

He replied that the turkey buzzard is relatively common in this part of New Jersey and is not, in his view, an endangered species.

Allstair Stewart, Princeton's fire chief, said the Princeton fire department had no written instructions from Transco on how to fight any Transco fire, but he said the police department had a chart showing location of all pipeline valves. Mr. Nix said the valves shut off automatically in case of a leak.

He presented technical information to re-assure Mrs. Elizabeth Sokolov of Laurel Road, who expressed concern about the weight of cars on the interior project road that would cross the pipeline.

Princeton units was unknown. By some quick and informal arithmetic, the two men arrived at a figure of about 1,100 for the Princeton shortage, calculated from the survey's figures.

"Middle-income" was defined by both Mr. Cook and Mr. Light as $12-18,000 a year.

When it was Mr. Kopp's turn to testify, he told the Zoning Board that 20 of his proposed 33 apartments would have two bedrooms and two baths and would rent for $300 a month. The 13 one-bedroom units would rent for $245.

Mr. Miller suggested that this was a pretty high rental for middle income families, although Mr. Light said that a family earning $15,000 could afford $300 a month.

Mr. Kopp, questioned closely by Mr. Miller, said he didn't know how much money his tract is worth at current prices because he has owned it for a long time. Also, he conceded, he does not yet have construction cost estimates.

These two points led Mr. Miller to suggest that the $245 and $300 rentals might be even higher, and that until Mr. Kopp knew his costs more firmly, he could not tell the board what his rentals would be.

Mr. Light observed that, considering the close proximity of the Shopping Center's parking lot and landing docks, no tenant would be willing to pay very high rents for a Kopp apartment.

Master Plan? Because Township Committee, in sending the case back to the board, asked whether the need for apartments was related to construction on that particular site, Mr. Kopp's attorney called in Robert Strong, planning consultant.

Nearby bus routes, major roads, and shopping within a walking distance were cited as reasons for building apartments in that location, and Mr. Strong added that the lot was oddly shaped and too narrow for private homes.

When he referred to a master plan as "just a general guide," and testified that, in his opinion, there was "unquestionably no rational planning reason" for the Township's Master Plan prohibition of privately developed apartments, Mr. Miller again went into action.

Although he did elicit from Mr. Strong the admission that New Jersey law empowers a planning board to make a Master Plan, the planner would not concede that such a plan is more than a "general guide."

In other testimony, Frank Gundry, former Township engineer and now an engineering consultant, said the Kopp property was so small that its drainage wouldn't have measurable effect.

Henry Ney, traffic expert, said the apartments would not cause traffic or safety problems, and Sgt. Anthony Nini, the Township's traffic officer, agreed.

Neither Mr. Ney nor Sgt. Nini, however, could predict the effect on Terhune Road traffic of other buildings scheduled for construction in the area, like IDA or the PCH housing project.

Mr. Kopp produced for the board letters from the Princeton Water Company, Public Service and the Sewer Operating Company declaring that his project could be served by all. The SOC's approval was "tentative," and the SOC pointed out that it had no estimates about the use PCH tenants would make of the same sewer trunk line.

Multi-Housing Policy Still on Drawing Board

For the past two years, Princeton's Regional Planning Board sub-committee on housing has been working to hammer out a community-wide, Borough-Township policy on housing which will help the town meet its need for more apartments, and at the same time not turn Princeton into one giant bedroom.

The board's alarmed opposition to Mr. Kopp's 33-apartment proposal is based on the fact that he jumped the gun: the housing sub-committee hasn't finished yet.

Other developers have been taking blueprints to the sub-committee and asking impatiently, "When?" Not yet, the sub-committee has been telling them.

But Mr. Kopp by-passed the sub-committee entirely and went straight to the Township Zoning Board for the variance that would allow him to build.

Why the Delay? What has taken the sub-committee so long to come up with a policy? When can it do so?

To take the last one first: the Planning Board has hired a professional consultant, given him the housing data, and asked him to make recommendations to the Planning Board on Thursday, September 7.

Between that date and December 31, the Planning Board will study the recommendations, ponder and refine them and finally discuss them with the entire Princeton community.

After that, into 1973, will come a revision of the Master Plan and revision of the zoning ordinances of both Borough and Township to incorporate the new multi-housing proposals.

It is expected that the new policy will provide for private developers, like Mr. Kopp. Right now, the Master Plan prohibits private development in the Township and allows only public or limited-sponsorship apartments. The power of the Master Plan to prohibit or allow is, of course, part of the Kopp legal tussle.

Some of the Answers. Why does it take so much time?

First, because everybody on the Planning Board is a volunteer with only evenings to spare. Then, the housing survey completed by George Sternleib last fall after a year of work, focused on regional needs, and the sub-committee had to narrow his findings down to make some sense for Princeton.

Golda Gottlieb, sub-committee chairman, says the group wrote the University, Seminary, Medical Center, Regional Schools and Opinion Research, trying to get more data.

"We had to go back three or four times, with some institutions, to get precisely the data we wanted," she says.

While all of this has been going on, the Planning Board's committee of architects, appointed in January, has been working on the assignment handed to it by the board: "How can we plan for multi-family building?"

• Designate half-a-dozen specific areas for apartments, as Lawrence Township has done?

• Put all apartments in the center of town, or in "neighborhoods" with a mix of apartments, houses and townhouses?

• Scatter many multi-family zones around the community?

• Set aside small areas for small houses on small lots?

• Plan for a mix of all of these?

Because the range of options suggested by the architects was so wide, sub-committee members found themselves in fundamental disagreements with each other. So they hired the professional planner to sort everything out and provide firm, professional recommendations.

The consultant will not only consider these possibilities, but will test each against the effect on roads, sewers, traffic patterns, aesthetics, what the land can take.

Mrs. Gottlieb says the consultant will quite probably bring along three-dimensional models, to show graphically just what a given idea might be like in reality.

"Timing is crucial," she yawns, "how not to swamp the town, or swamp the taxpayer! One community—Ramapo—is successful so far in timing its development, allowing only so much in such-and-such a period of time, but this is very difficult."

Equally difficult is trying to find a way to balance incomes, find a way to make sure that low and middle-income housing is provided.

It all takes time...

Serving with Mrs. Gottlieb on the housing sub-committee are Planning Board members Martha LaMar, James A. Floyd, Norman Williams, Robert van de Velde and Hans K. Sander.

Architect consultants are John Zvosek, Jean Labatut, Martin Beck and Philetus H. Holt III.

CHANGING OF THE GUARD: In ceremonies Monday in Borough Hall witnessed by some 50 friends and relatives, Michael F. Carnevale (right) was sworn in as the Borough's new Chief of Police by Mayor Robert Cawley. Chief Carnevale succeeds Peter J. McCrohan (center), who stepped down after a 37-year career on the force. At left is the new lieutenant, Theodore Lewis, who will take over Chief Carnevale's old job. Also sworn in as the department's new sergeant was Thomas Procaccino, the Borough's former juvenile officer.

CAR CRASH CLAIMS ONE

Seven Others Injured. A Japanese enrolled at the Institute for Advanced Study was killed and seven persons in a second car were injured — two of them hospitalized — when their automobiles collided head-on Sunday on Springdale Road, about 200 feet south of Haslet Avenue.

Dead is Taro Asano, 36, of 11 Harden Road, who died instantly when he was trapped behind the steering wheel of his car. He was pronounced dead at the scene by Dr. W. Pepper Constable who had been golfing at nearby Springdale Golf Club. An autopsy revealed, according to Township police, that Mr. Asano died of a lacerated heart and lungs and multiple fractures of the ribs.

The victim is survived by his wife, Sachiko. A spokesman for the Institute said that Mr. Asano had received a grant for a second year of study in the department of natural sciences. He had come to the Institute from the University of Tokyo where he was a student at the Institute for Graphics of the College of General Education.

Seven persons were riding in the nine-passenger station wagon that Mr. Asano's car struck at 11:52 a.m. They were the driver, Albert S. Yuan, 43, and his wife Cecilia, 40, of South Rochester, Minn.; Mrs. Lin Shing-Gang, 38, and her daughter Aileen, 10; Mrs. Lin Lin, 35, and her children, May, 10, and Lester, 2, all residents of 80 Erdman Avenue.

According to Ptl. Anthony Gaylord, who is conducting the investigation, all were injured and in a state of shock when he arrived. Mrs. Yuan was admitted to Princeton Medical Center with a possible brain concussion and Mrs. Lin for a fractured arm. A hospital spokesman said on Tuesday that the condition of both women was satisfactory. The others were treated and released.

On Way to the Shore. According to police, the Yuaens were visiting relatives here and were on their way to pick up another relative on Von Neumann Drive prior to taking a trip to the seashore when the accident occurred. Ptl. Gaylord reported that Mr. Yuan told him he was going south on Springdale about 10 to 15 miles an hour when he suddenly saw a car come "out of nowhere" in his lane. He applied his brakes and thinks his car was stopped before the collision took place. That is the last thing he remembered.

Ptl. Gaylord said that the point of impact took place about six feet from the southbound curb in Mr. Yuan's lane. There were no skid marks from the Asano car.

The force of the impact, he said, pushed the heavy Yuan car 56 feet backward. From the damage caused by the impact and lack of skid marks, Ptl. Gaylord said that the Asano car, in his opinion, "had to be really moving" at impact.

First to arrive on the scene was Ptl. Bernard Lenhardt of the Borough police. He recalled that the Yuan station wagon had passed him at College Road just 30 seconds after he and DeWitt Boice, to whom he was talking, heard a loud crash. Ptl. Lenhardt sped to the scene and observed that the 1971 station wagon was slightly on fire.

Three people in the wagon were trapped in the front seat, as was Mr. Asano in his car. The patrolman gave aid to the remaining four passengers and later transported them to the Medical Center in his patrol car.

Ptl. Gaylord reported that when he arrived, four people were being treated outside the station wagon by Sgt. Michael Kopliner of the Township; Ptl. Lenhardt, Mr. Boice and members of the First Aid Squad, and University proctors. "Everyone did a fine job," he said.

The doors of the station wagon had to be pried open to free its three front seat victims. The driver was pinned against the wheel and in shock. Ptl. Gaylord said. One of the girls was riding in the middle. She sustained facial cuts and was in bad state of shock, he added.

Victims were still being treated at the Medical Center dispensary as late as 3:30. Ptl. Gaylord said. He is being assisted in his investigation by Sgt. Anthony Nini, traffic control officer for the Township.

Sgt. Nini said that he is scheduled to talk with Mr. Yuan on Friday. Police, as yet, have not talked to Mrs. Asano, who, he said, speaks very little English.

A sample of Mr. Asano's blood has been sent to the State Police labs in Trenton for analysis. That report has Seven young boys feeling the need for more recreation facilities near their homes, the Spruce Street, Linden Lane, Hamilton Avenue area, found out the political process sometimes pays off.

Early this year, the boys met with neighborhood resident Councilman Martin P. Lombardo to discuss their problem. A petition was developed and the boys went door-to-door collecting 178 signatures. Mr. Lombardo then made arrangements for them to present the petition at a Borough Council meeting.

The necessary funds were approved for the project and the end result was a fine half-court basketball facility and playground water fountain.

With Mr. Lombardo on the ladder are, from left: Francis Davison, 13; Robert Hamer, 16; Chip Williams, 13; Greg Hamer, 10; Tyke Davison, 14. Absent when picture was taken were Robert and Mario Mangone. And a final word from the boys, from spokesman Chip Williams, "Now we can say this is really ours, and we plan to take good care of it."

not yet been received, Sgt. Nini said. When the Township investigation of the accident is completed, the findings will be presented to a Grand Jury.

Killed by Princeton Driver. Carl Kiesewetter, 34, of 18 Harris Road, was the driver of a car that struck and killed a Highland Park woman early Sunday morning on Route 1 in Edison.

According to Edison police, Mrs. Marlo Aacheim, 31, walking on crutches because of injuries she sustained when struck by a car in New Brunswick a month ago, was hit in the center lane of Route 1 by the Kiesewetter auto.

Mr. Kiesewetter told police he first saw the victim after another car passed him. He applied his brakes and his car swerved to the right, striking Mrs. Aacheim at 3:57 a.m. She died early Monday morning in Middlesex General Hospital in New Brunswick.

No charges have been filed against Mr. Kiesewetter, pending completion of the investigation by Edison police.

OCTOBER DATE SET

For Township Zoning Hearing. The revised zoning ordinance for the Township — including everything except housing — was introduced Monday night by Committee and October 2 set as the public hearing date.

Before then, however, the Township's own Planning Board will greet the public on Monday, August 14, and again Monday, September 11, at 8 p.m. in Township Hall to listen, make notes and maybe change things according to the advice and consent of Township residents.

Anyone who would like a copy of the ordinance or a lengthy summary of its provisions may stop at Township Hall late this Thursday or on Friday.

A change has been made since the ordinance was reviewed for the press last month. Business offices are now allowed in Service Two — the zone on upper Mt. Lucas Road.

However, this doesn't mean exhumation of the North Square office complex, one planned for the Service zone on Mt. Lucas Road, according to Township Planning Board member Abbot Low Moffat. He says the height limit of 30 feet would preclude a structure the size of North Square.

With its new boundaries, the Service Zone will run along Herrontown, where Princeton House and the small animal shelter are, and along Stat Road's ribbon of stores.

After introduction of the ordinance, Committeeman James A. Floyd gave high praise to municipal attorney Gordon Griffin for his drafting of the new ordinance.

Princeton Community Housing, Inc. heard Committee pass unanimously two resolutions required by Federal authorities. One exempts PCH from property taxes and allows the Township to accept instead 15% of the annual gross shelter rents from PCH's low-and-middle-income properties. The other authorized Federal rent supplement payments.

Recreational Facilities. Two bocce courts, two more paddle-tennis courts, two handball courts and a basketball court are included in the $45,000 bond ordinance introduced by Committee Monday night.

Lighting for the basketball court will be provided by some lights the Township already has, explained Committeeman Barbara Smoyer. Night use of the court is heavy, she said, the Township will acquire newer and better lights.

Lighting for night bocce players is also under consideration, Committee said.

A flow-meter and a pit to contain it will be financed through another ordinance introduced Monday. The $8,500 combination will measure flow into the Princeton Township-Montgomery-Rocky Hill sewer system so that costs can be apportioned among the three communities.

Sewer Line Planned. Acting on Board of Health recommendation, Committee introduced an ordinance for a sewer on the Princeton-Kingston Road west of Roper Road and east of Locust Lane. All property-owners support its installation, said acting mayor Dean Chace.

He explained that this is a different sewer from the one requested by petition of seven property-owners elsewhere on the Princeton-Kingston Road. That sewer, which would affect eleven house-holders, is opposed by four of them and not regarded as necessary by the Board of Health. The Township therefore does not plan to construct this sewer section, Mr. Chace said.

The Princeton Medical Center will receive $13,167 refund in overpayment of taxes.

MAN ARRESTED AGAIN

For Passing Check. For the second time in two weeks, Vincent X. Dula, 36, 184 Witherspoon Street, has been arrested for trying to obtain money under false pretenses by passing bad checks.

Dula was arrested Thursday afternoon by Detective Anthony Ranfone who charged him with passing a worthless check for $20 in Skirm's Smoke Shop on Palmer Square. He was later released after being issued a complaint summons.

A week ago, Dula was arrested after he tried to pass a $20 check at Buxton's on Nassau Street.

"I HAVE A PLAN . . ." In Summer Intime's "Flea in Her Ear," Marcia Elian and Alice White conspire to trap their unfaithful husbands.

Magnifique! "Flea" Tickles The Ear with Giddy Laughter

Murray Theatre is a flea circus these evenings with the wildly giddy "Flea in Her Ear," not only occupying the stage but spinning it almost to a splintering collapse.

Magnifique! But a qualifier: if this kind of frenzied, hyper-Mary Brothers French farce drives you to nervous exhaustion, leave the "Flea" to its own market and stay home.

George Feydeau's farce will play again this Thursday, Friday and Saturday at 8:30 and Sunday at 7:30, all in Murray Theatre on the University campus.

Now, let's see. There's some food of plot here, starting with Mme Chandelise's suspicions that her husband who hasn't been quite the husband he used to be, is spending golden hours in the notorious hotel Coq d'Or.

Entailed within is a case of mistaken identity, a nephew with a scandalously funny left palate and a Spinard who carries "machismo" around with him like a brace of pistols.

Others, of course, with so many exits, entrances, confusions, shrieks, misunderstandings that your ordinary Marx Brothers movie begins to seem like a stately sarabande.

Time Timing. Fortunately, director Daniel Berkowitz has the skill and wit, and his actors have the skill and wit to keep it all whirling and in synch. And this success is achieved, mind, with a cast of 14 people, all of whom are in a constant state of movement and chatter. An entrance hall a second too late, a cue missed by the wink of an eye, and the whole whirling would spin into pieces.

The only slow down, and indeed the only serious flaw in the production, is the fault of M. Feydeau himself. He is so utterly in thrall to the idea of a man with a double, so glassy-eyed with the titillations of mistaken identity that he can't let go. The entire third act is almost wholly devoted to this single joke, and it causes regrettable loss of momentum in a play which is otherwise the most entrancing kind of perpetual motion.

With "Flea in Her Ear," Summer Intime has achieved its best casting of the season, overcoming some of the lumps that made the two previous productions uneven.

News Of The THEATRES

William Hootkins' M. Chandelise, partly Parisian representative of a Boston life insurance company, is quite as skillfully portrayed as William Hootkins' Poche, the hordello parter. May the twain never meet!

Joseph Harbeson the was Billy the Liar, you will recall is an exasperatingly comic Camille, cleft of palate but never of torrential speech, able to make this particular physical handicap seem the funniest thing in the world.

He Wears Two Hats. Wearing a kind of Castilian fright wig, director Berkowitz turns actor and plays with splendidly manic polish a Spanish don, wildly bent on revenging his honor.

William Bowman, plump and proper as a butler should be, wary as he should be of his deliciously frisky wife played by Anne Louise Hoffman (last week's Wanda June) . . . Anne Sheldon, madam of the Coq d'Or, known in her prime as the girl who were only a Peach Melba . . . statuesque Alice White, too tall to be at ease of the ranting Spaniard . . .

Marcia Ellian's suspicious blonde contrast to her Spanish friend.

"Flea," incidentally, isn't all Gallie frenzy. Some nice lines here, mildly Shavian or with a Wilde touch: "But I saw you with my own eyes!" "What does THAT prove?" . . . "Only married people come to this hotel.
Of course, not always with

"I opened it by mistake as

Let the "Flea" tickle your

CHAPLIN!

In Film Festival. Chaplin, Sherlock Holmes and Eugene O'Neill make up the unlikely starring combination in next week's trio of evenings at the movies with Summer Intime.

Next Monday, Charlie Chaplin's "The Gold Rush" will start the week off. It's the Chaplin with the famous shoe-eating sequence.

Next Tuesday, the 1945 Sherlock Holmes mystery, "The House of Fear" will be shown.
In this one, Basil Rathbone and Nigel Bruce star as the intrepid detectives faced with a baffling crime.

Next Wednesday, "The Long Voyage Home," which director John Ford fashioned from four short plays by Eugene O'Neill, will be on the Intime calendar. John Wayne and Thomas Mitchell star.

All three films will be screened at 8 p.m. in air-conditioned McCormick Art Museum.

TO DESIGN SCENES

For McCarter. Two stage designers with experience in theatre, opera and ballet productions here and abroad, have been retained by Mc-Carter for the coming drama repertory season.

John Conklin and David Jenkins, both graduates of the Yale School of Drama, will work out designs for the five plays scheduled for the '72-'73 season by McCarter Theatre.

Mr. Conklin did the scenery for the Ginastera opera "Bentrix Cenci" in the John F.
Kennedy Center in Washington last fall. He also designed Kafka's "Metamorphosis" for the American Place Theatre in New York, "Twelfth Night" for Washington's Arena Stage and "Hamlet" for New Haven's Long Wharf Theatre, among other productions.

In earlier seasons, he did Archibald MacLeish's
"Scratch" on Broadway and productions for the Pennsylvania Ballet in Philadelphia and various opera and repertory companies.

Mr. Jenkins designed "The Importance of Being Earnest" and "The Homecoming" for McCarter during the last season of repertory in 1970 and 1971. He has also worked with Long Wharf in New Haven and did the decor for the rock opera "Tommy," produced by Montreal's Les Grand Ballets Canadiens.

ON THE GARDEN STATE

Parkway Arts Center Shows.
Daytime, night time, young-or-old time—the Garden State

Arts Center at Holmdel seems to have something for everybody this week and next.

Engelbert Humperdinck, who has sung before packed houses from New York to Paris to Las Vegas to Holmdel, according to his press-agents, is now on the Garden State stage tonight and will be through this Saturday.

Last year, when Humper-dinck played Garden State, 37,000 people showed up for the six-night engagement. More than 100-million of his records have been sold and a Las Vegas cab-driver says he bought a new car out of the tips he earned from taking people to hear Humperdinck the night he came to town.

This Thursday, Friday and Saturday at 1 p.m., the younger theatre buffs will have a chance when the "H.R. Puf-nstuf Show" struts on stage.
The show will star Pufnstuf himself and Witchiepoo, plus Hoo Doo the Magician from Lidville and Sparky the Firefly from The Bugaloos, all from the fantasy world of Sid and Marty Krofft.

Next week, the Garden State Center will present Ferrante & Teicher, the piano-playing

SHAKESPEARE

"Midsummer" in Park. The Open Air Theatre in Washington Crossing State Park will provide the sylvan backdrop for Shakespeare's comedy "A Midsummer's Night's Dream" to be given next weekend, August 10, 11, and 12 at 8:30. Sunday, August 13 is the rain date.

The producer is Shakespeare '70, the company that gave "Hamlet" in that year, and "Twelfth Night" last season.

Directors John F. Erath and Gerald E. Guarnieri are in charge. Dr. Erath teaches Shakespeare, and Renaissance and Restoration drama at Trenton State and Mr. Guarnieri is the founder of Shakespeare '70, designer for Trenton State's opera workshop and chief designer for the Artists Showcase Theatre.

Marvin W. Stafford, who lives in Fairless Hills and has a professional career as a comedian (he appears in the film, "Last of the Red Hot Lovers"), will play Bottom. Charles W. Smith, who will be Puck, is also in the "Lovers" film.

Oberon will be John Favorite, recently seen in "Cyrano" at the Bucks County Playhouse, and Titania will be Sara Aflerbach, who played in the Princeton Community Players' "No Exit."

Jane Frankel, who played Ophelia in the "Hamlet" production, will be Hermia.

STREET

With 3 New Plays, Street Theatre is in rehearsal this weekend for its presentation next weekend of the three original plays promised earlier in the season.

"Trial by Fire," by Harold Taylor; "R.M.S. Titanic" by S. Kevin Colman and Steven A. Kolmes and "Dristi Magis" by Esmeddy Kishmet will be on the program. The premiere will be Thursday, August 10 at 7:30 p.m. on the lawn in

IT'S NEW To Us

AUGUST IS THE MONTH
For the Farm Markets. Hurry! The Jersey melons are in! If you're new to New Jersey, there is a great treat in store for you — big, sweet melons that ripen in the fields next to the roadside markets. It is just a short, three-week season, with a few stragglers by Labor Day. And the flavor is incomparable. Forget the California variety that ripen in the freight trains.

We got ours at Cortelyou's Farm Market, on Route 513 between Rocky Hill and Kendall Park. This is a roadside stand that has been around for 20 years or more, started by Clifford Cortelyou and continued by his son Clifford Jr. during the past four years. The richness of summer is warm and lush all around you as you drive out there. And the Cortelyou market is fragrant with apples and corn and sweet peppers and melons.

Corn is Sweet. Clifford Cortelyou is young and easy to talk to. He told us that the corn on the stands this week is the "Gold Cup" variety, which keeps its sugar longer than most varieties. By this weekend the "Silver Queen" will be on the stands.

"This is the best white corn," he said. "It's even sweeter than the yellow. At one time we could hardly give away white corn, but now we sometimes have to turn people away!" Corn is picked twice a day.

He farms about 150 acres, with the help of three younger men. Four girls operate the stand in shifts, for it is open from 9 a.m. until 8 p.m. seven days a week. His wife, a member of the Princeton Day School faculty, helps in the summer.

In the 18 acres of orchards there are apples, pears and peaches growing. "There will be few peaches this year," Cliff Cortelyou told us. "There were heavy rains last fall, then a short cold winter and so much rain this spring. At Rutgers they say that the Jersey crop will be only 25 percent of the usual."

Apples, Too. On the stands are baskets of Lodi apples.

CORTELYOU'S FARM MARKET is filling up with fresh-picked offerings from the fields — melons, tomatoes, white corn and more. That's Cliff Cortelyou at right. The market will be welcoming you with free buttered corn this Saturday, by way of reminding you that fresh-picked corn is coming in twice daily from the patch out back.

which is mainly a cooking apple; July Reds, a good one for the lunch and picnic box (19 cents per lb.) and the Yellow Transparents, THE applesauce apple (12 cents per lb.)

Jersey tomatoes are just at their peak. You'll notice the difference in rich flavor from the packaged variety. The crop will continue to yield until the first frost, as will the corn.

Cortelyou Farm Market has watermelons to offer — buy a whole one or have one sliced. There are eggplants in neat and colorful plastic bins. Nearby are the fresh-picked green string beans.

The market has the farm-style packs of jams, jellies and pickles. And from a beekeeper, Mike Velosin, there's a steady supply of clover and wildflower honey from his hives in the neighborhood. You can buy honey in the comb or by the jar. The wildflower honey is very rich and dark.

The Cortelyou Farm Market opened on the first of May with offerings of asparagus and strawberries. In the fall it will have apples, corn, squash and a monstrous supply of pumpkins. "We offer all the pumpkins you can carry for $1.50, and it really gets to be a family event!" Cliff says.

At the back of the stand is a huge chart that describes the different kinds of apples the farm offers and the best uses for each. Over the years, so many customers have asked questions about the apples, "that we painted the sign in self defense!" he laughs.

The Cortelyou Farm Market is a member of the New Jersey Farm Market Association.

WHATEVER YOUR BAG . . .
Try Luttman's. At ten minutes after five last Thursday a woman rushed into Luttman's Luggage Shop on Palmer Square (next to the Playhouse) with her youngster in tow. She bought a man's two-suit, a carry-on case and a tote bag, all for her parents.
"She picked out our best line, the Pullmans," John Goodman, now Luttman's proprietor, told us. "She spent about $300, and ended up with three beautiful pieces of luggage. The Pullman is about the ultimate in soft luggage, covered with a synthetic cloth that is as tough as iron. It is very light, but strong."

We asked to see it, and he showed us in a choice of colors: biscuit, ruby red and ocean blue. The trimming is real leather; the sides are reinforced with spring steel.
"Fulton is an old, old house that knows how to make luggage," Mr. Goodman told us. Luttman's has been a Princeton store for nearly 70 years. Mr. Goodman, in fact, bought it from the founder four years ago, after having worked in there for many years. We asked him to talk with us about the price levels in luggage, interested because we'd heard tales of tourist luggage damaged in transit.

Fairly Priced. "We have tried luggage that is a medium price that would sell at $20 as against $60," he said. "But it hasn't worked out at all. Not because of the price, but because the luggage didn't hold up."

"The Atlantic Product's plaid line, however, is a very good one for the price. Our most popular luggage is the Ventura, with its enormous choice of colors and a medium price. The Ventura is something we are proud of, because of its price and its strength. There's a complete line for men and another for women."

Today's traveler is equipping himself with three pieces of luggage if the trip is to be of any duration: a carry-on case, an overnighter and a pullman case. Perhaps also a tote bag to sling over the shoulder.

Luttman has the Cowan luggage, one of the high quality brands, that include "soft" pieces covered with a tough nylon backed with another material for added strength. One that we saw was a blue-black nylon with yellow calf straps. From Flight Alitalia, there are light, strong pieces that hold an enormous amount of clothing, due to their depth. The fabric is a coated canvas, easily washed off. Binding and straps are in a contrasting color.

For Tennis Players. Browsing the store, we saw the tennis player's pack-all, a white square of leather, with a red inset on the side for the racket. And attache cases for lady executives, who can choose a lipstick rose-red, a blue or a Nile green.

For a more picturesque look, carpet bag carry-alls, with white fringe on top. The design is a typical Persian geometric with a deep red background.

Canvas roll bags in salmon pink or sand color, with contrasting trim, are matched with deep-pocketed shoulder bags — two light pieces for travelers to handle themselves. The shoulder tote is $15.

Luttman's supplies of luggage run the gamut, it seems, even including a lady's suitcase with a tapestry cover. We saw beautiful leathers in slim, long shoulder bags, big enough for cameras or other valuables that you want to keep under close control.

A particularly beautiful shoulder bag comes in a dark rust suede with a black strap. Another attractive tote is a dark green-and-black tweed with smartly styled inserts of yellow and black leather straps on each side.

The choice of luggage depends largely on your budget and the kind of trip you're taking. Luttman's has a good range.

News Of The Theatres

front of Princeton High School. Other performances will be announced later.

K. G. Hawthorne is directing "Trial by Fire," a short comedy. In the cast are Rip Pellaton as The Judge; Peter Lynch as The Prosecutor; John Wible as The Defense Attorney; Liz Hilst as Claire The Defendant; Suzanne Friedly, Kathy Hilst and Liz Jacobs as The Jury; Jane Bears as Anti-Dancer; Walter Broner as Anti-Lover and Peter Lopatin as The Boy Mark.

The writing team of Colman and Kolmes is also the directing team for "R.M.S. Titanic." The actors are John Wible as the Captain; Kevin Little as First Officer; John Keane as Steward; Pam McClelland and Kathy Hilst as singers and dancers, and "Mr. Ismay." In "Dristi Magic," Pam McClelland is the Narrator; Suzanne Friedly, Girl Dristi and Tim Murphy, a Young Dristi. The directors are Adrienne Brockway and Corinne Colman.

GREASEPAINT
At Clinton Theatre. "The Roar of the Greasepaint, the Smell of the Crowd" will play the Clinton Summer Theatre from next Wednesday, August 9, through Sunday, August 13. The theatre is at 23 West Main Street in Clinton, and may be reached by taking the Clinton-Pittstown Exit from I-78. Performances start at 8:30 p.m., except for Sunday, when curtain-time is 7:30. Reservations may be made by calling 291-735-5625.

This weekend, the Clinton

Theatre is presenting the musical "Company" which won awards in 1970 for Best Musical, Best Music, Best Lyrics and Best Book. This fall, the parent company of the Clinton Theatre, Enroute Productions, will take "Company" on tour. "The Roar of the Greasepaint" includes such hit songs as "Who Can I Turn To?" and "A Wonderful Day Like Today." The score is by the composers who wrote "Soo the World I want to Get Off."

PLAYHOUSE
Snoopy Come Home (now playing) Charles M. Schultz comic strip characters are back on the screen, with Snoopy the star this time. It is an appropriately sentimental, funny animated film geared more for youngsters than the adults who follow the satiric comic strip.

The story begins with Snoopy disgusted by all the "No Dogs Allowed" signs in Charlie Brown's town. He travels with his bird companion and "secretary," Woodstock, to see his long-lost owner, Lila, and decides to stay with her. But of course, the old town has its tugs on his heart. Perhaps the funniest sequence is Snoopy's boxing sequence with Lucy. The Sheremans, Richard M. and Robert B., award-winners for their "Mary Poppins" songs, have written a number of engaging songs and melodies for the film.

GARDEN
Cabaret (now playing) Liza Minelli in her star-making musical.

She is tough yet poignant, sophisticated yet naive in her portrayal of the kooky American girl who sings in one of Berlin's cellar cabarets and befriends a shy writer who lives in the same needy boarding house. The year is 1931, and the Kit Kat Klub draws a sybaritic audience with its sleazy routines, while outside hooligans who call themselves Nazis are beginning to make inroads.

The movie is vintage vintage, with first rate performances from Joel Gray, the miming master of ceremonies; Michael York as a young, bisexual Englishman, and by

SNOOPY, COME HOME, starring the Peanuts gang, will be at the Playhouse this week — with double matinees.

Helmut Griem, Fritz Wepper and Marisa Berenson. Miss Minnelli is a beguiling girl, and in her musical numbers, particularly spellbinding.

The film ignores, more or less, the Broadway version of several years ago, and goes back to the original Christopher Isherwood "Berlin Stories" and the John Van Druten play, "I Am A Camera," adapted from the stories. There's a hilarious tea party scene. The musical numbers are brilliantly staged.

PRINCE and BRUNSWICK
The Candidate (now playing) is somewhat of a film version of Joe McGinniss' "The Selling of a President." There's an in-depth chronicle of how a campaign works; the image creating, the manipulations with the press and television, the playing with words until they have no meaning. Most fascinating is the effect of all this upon the candidate himself.

Robert Redford is McKay, a young lawyer who is the son of a former senator. He works for a legal group aiding the poor and various social causes. He is hooked by Lucas (Peter Boyle), a wizard of a campaign manager who runs him for Senate.

Michael Ritchie's direction has the same documentary feel to the proceedings as did his "Downhill Racer." The multi-leveled action, the large amount of humor and the brilliant acting combine into what is probably the best political film ever made.

More Charges. On Friday, Dula was arrested again, this time on a bench warrant issued by the municipal court in Cranbury, charging him with motor vehicle violations.

Dula was released to Chief Kenneth Logan of the Cranbury police department.

TV, RADIO STOLEN

From Vandeventer Apartment. A television set valued at $125 and a $55 radio were reported stolen last week from a second floor apartment at 14 Vandeventer Avenue.

Police identified the owner as Mrs. L. Schoesinger. The door to the apartment was unlocked, they said.

HUNCH PAYS OFF

Parole Violator Arrested. Thursday afternoon, Borough Ptl. Ronald Holliday observed a man acting in a suspicious manner in front of the First National Bank of Princeton on the corner of Nassau and Witherspoon Street.

He sent the man's name and other information to the National Crime Information Center, a computerized marvel located in FBI headquarters in Washington, D. C. that can answer inquiries about suspicious persons or suspected stolen property within seven seconds.

The reply from NCIC told Ptl. Holliday that the suspect, Arthur W. Einstein, 29, of Florida, alias Arthur Hooker, was wanted by Dade County police for parole violation and for issuing worthless checks.

Extradited to Florida, Einstein was sent to Mercer County Jail to await the arrival of Florida authorities. Borough Chief Michael Carnevale reported that Einstein had in his possession at the time of his arrest a number of checks. Police are still investigating the latter, he said.

TREES, LIMBS DOWNED

During Brief Thunderstorm. "It was short and violent," commented Chief Michael Carnevale on last Tuesday's brief thunderstorm.

Between 4:45 and 5:25 p.m., Borough police received seven calls reporting trees, limbs or wires down. The first caller reported a tree down on Murray Place.

Other calls reported: a tree down on Library Place at Boudinot, with a limb against a power line; telephone wires down in front of 162 John Street; a tree blocking the road on William Street; a limb on Prospect Avenue, blocking the road; a fallen limb in the Park Place lot which struck a parked car; and a limb across the sidewalk on Witherspoon Street near the Public Library.

The Township police docket listed a tree on a house at 231 Snowden Lane with the power out and a cryptic "power out in the northeast section."

Chief Carnevale reported that George Clausen of the Borough Engineering Department got his crew out with their saws and cleared the blocked streets in short order.

METEOR SHOWER DUE

Visible Next Week. The New Jersey State Museum Planetarium reminds skywatchers that the Perseid meteor shower should reach maximum during the early morning hours of Saturday, August 12.

The meteor shower, which will appear as bright streaks of light in the northeastern sky, may be seen five days before and after that date; however, on the morning of the 12th, at maximum, as many as 50 meteors per hour may be visible. The moon will set early Friday night, the 11th, providing a dark sky which will enhance meteor observation later in the night and before sunrise Saturday.

Meteor showers are thought to be formed by debris from comets. Comets, which orbit the sun, are composed of masses of ice formed from various gases and combined with other particles of matter ranging in size from dust grains to pebbles.

When the earth's orbit crosses a comet's, the earth's gravity sweeps up particles left in the comet's orbit. As the particles rush through the earth's atmosphere, friction causes them to heat and vaporize and appear bright, forming showers of light.

About the same time each year, the earth crosses the orbit of Comet 1862 III, the third comet identified in the year 1862. It is the debris from this comet which forms the Perseid meteor shower. The shower is named for the constellation Perseus from which the meteor shower seems to radiate.

Although this particular meteor shower is generally the most reliable, many other showers occur over the course

About Beer and Baseball.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
RE: Your column entitled
No Hits, No Runs, No Suds
in your July 26th edition.

After having read and digested your subject column, I find it necessary to comment on it.
I would like to point out that I am presently a manager in the Princeton Adult Softball League. I would also like to point out, that after the attention our team attracted on Wednesday evening, July 26, there can be little doubt as to where Mr. Donald Barr (Recreation Director) was pointing his attack.

We drew the complete attention of the lone policeman on duty. He was with us for the entire ball game, as well as after the ball game. When we attempted to open a few cans of beer in the parking lot after the game, he very politely informed us that we could not drink alcoholic beverages on Community Park grounds.

We obeyed his request without any problems whatsoever.
There was, however, a complete feeling of disbelief in the officer's request, since the entire matter borders on being ridiculous.

I would be the first to admit that an ordinance of this nature should be enforced, if there had been reason to enforce it, I do not feel that this is the case.

Any trouble that has taken place at Community Park ball games, can be contributed to either competitiveness or the lack of effort on the part of our Recreation Director. I have personally appealed to Mr. Barr on items such as the following:

1. Securing umpires who know the game and will control the game (we have made some headway in this area).
2. Stands or bleachers (at all fields) which will keep spectators at a reasonable distance from the playing field.

3. Improved playing conditions which will lessen the chance of ill feelings and arguments (i.e.: foul lines, foul flags, stationary bases, and manicuring of the infield).

4. A policeman on duty evenings of ball games to control situations that may arise.

We have seen some improvement this year, but most of it was made possible only after considerable pressure was applied to Mr. Barr. We want a man who is sincerely interested in the Princeton Adult Softball League, not a man who merely feels that he must perform the function.

At our pre-season meeting this year it was even suggested (by one of the other managers) that we form a committee to aid Mr. Barr in running the league more efficiently. There was no response from him.

I would say that the Ivy In-softball team has about 100 loyal fans. Many of these people, if not all of them, are responsible, sensible people.

Many of them enjoy a good ball game and a cold bottle of beer. Following a day's work. Residents of all surrounding areas enjoy the privilege of being able to sip a few beers, while watching a game. It just makes one wonder what makes Princeton so different.

Mr. Barr mentioned that he had hand-delivered letters to all managers of the league, informing them of the no drinking ordinance at Community Park. This simply is not true.
Mr. Barr has made no mention to me (either written or vocally), since our pre-season meeting, of any problem that has anything to do with alcoholic beverages.

In closing, I would like to say that our team and hopefully our fans, will follow the ordinance which forbids the drinking or possession of alcoholic beverages at Community Park. I also hope, that they, like me, will do all they can to have the ordinance abolished.

PAUL L. TERESKY Manager.

Liquor Ban Questioned.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
In response to "No hits, No runs, No suds", I must take this opportunity to verbalize a very devoted fan's point of view.

First, may I say that the rule of "No alcoholic beverages allowed" is antiquated, out-dated, and certainly stringently enforced unnecessarily. To listen to Mr. Barr, it would seem to those not present, that a drunken brawl occurred nightly.

Having been an avid fan for several years, I would like to stress that:

1) The average age of those present is 25-35 years.

2) There has never been any type of disturbance or disorder from anyone having a beverage during the game.

3) There has never been any litter left behind.

I cannot grasp Mr. Barr's enforcement of such a ridiculous rule, when other needed priorities in the softball league be dormant.

Most important to those of us who week after week follow our teams faithfully would be the following questions:

Why is a policeman posted at only the Ivy Inn team when there are six other teams in action at the same time, all of whom indulge in an occasional cool refreshment?

Is Mr. Barr man enough to speak to the team managers individually? I think not. It's rather sad that a so called leader of community events has to pass out pamphlets stating the rule, as he stands nearly saying nothing. If Mr.
Barr insists this rule must be enforced fine-but he had better enforce for all.

We would not want to charge
Mr. Barr with intimidation, discrimination, harassment, and obvious prejudice toward only one team in the entire league — would we, Mr. Barr?

Considerate, If Not Cool.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Due to a mechanical failure,
the Community Park Pool Complex was forced to close down on Monday and Tuesday, July 24 and 25. The 30 horse power pump broke down sometime between midnight and 7 a.m. on Monday and had to be pulled out and sent to Philadelphia to be repaired.

Although this is the first mechanical failure during the five years the Pool Complex has been open, it unfortunately happened during an extremely warm two days.

On behalf of the Recreation Board and staff, I would like to thank the many patient individuals who graciously accepted the disappointing fact that the pool had to be closed during this heat wave. We apologize for the inconvenience and want you to know we deeply appreciate your understanding.

Above the Call of Duty.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
Last week the main pump which operates the filters at the Community Park Swimming Pool broke and the pool was closed both Monday and Tuesday. As a member of the Recreation Board, I sincerely regret this happened, especially during the height of the swimming season. However, I think the community should know of the Herculean efforts put in by a group of people on an almost "around the clock" basis which enabled the pool to be opened on Wednesday and stay open when the supposedly repaired pump became inoperative again on Wednesday afternoon.

We all owe a sincere vote of gratitude and appreciation to Don Barr, Recreation Director;
Ed Beacham, Assistant Pool Manager; John Clausen, Township Foreman; Tommy Johnson, electrician and Andy Tamasi, Recreation Department Maintenance Man. These men performed "above and beyond the call" and received no extra pay.

The broken pump was discovered early Monday morning and the company in Philadelphia which services the pump in the winter and guarantees it to work all summer was called. They picked up the pump Monday afternoon and worked on it Tuesday. Repeated phone calls from Princeton to Philadelphia indicated it

Congratulations!

To the Editor of Town Topics:

As Chairman of the Princeton Recreation Department, I wish to compliment and congratulate Donald Barr, the Recreation Director, his assistant Jack Roberts and his entire staff for all the hard work, very long hours and endless determination in getting the swimming pool repaired and ready as early as possible for the residents of the Princeton Community during the pump failure last week.

I am certain that I speak for all the members of the Recreation Department and hopefully all the Princeton Community in again congratulating Mr. Barr and staff for a job well done.

WILBERT BROOKS
Chairman, Recreation Dept.

would be fully repaired by midnight Tuesday and delivered to Princeton "some time" on Wednesday.

In order that the pool could open on Wednesday morning,
Mr. Barr and Mr. Tamas drove to Philadelphia in a Township truck at midnight, picked up the pump and by themselves replaced the "3,000 pound monster" between the hours of 3:30 and 9:00 a.m.
The pool was opened Wednesday morning.

During the day the newly repaired pump began leaking badly. Another call to Philadelphia produced a machinist from the service company at 6:30 p.m. who arrived with little more than a pair of pliers and a screwdriver. Messrs.
Barr, Beacham, Johnson and Tamas began working with the machinist to again remove the pump. It was discovered late Wednesday night that the problem was a missing part that the service company had apparently failed to replace last winter, and did not replace the previous day in Philadelphia.

Of course, the machinist did not have the part with him and a call to Mr. Clausen produced his services. He proceeded to make the necessary part and its attendant fittings and the pump was back in operation, working properly, at 2:30 a.m. on Thursday.

Obviously, restitution will be sought immediately from the service company and serious consideration given to finding another supplier this winter.
In addition, the Recreation Board will again request, as it has in the past, that monies be provided in next year's budget to purchase a "standby" pump in the event an emergency such as this happens again.

In the meantime, I hope the community at large is as grateful and proud as I am of the efforts put in by our employees and citizens to provide us with the services we desire.

The Other Side of the Coin.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

It was interesting to read of Anne Martindell's hectic participation in the Democrat convention in your lead article (Town Topics, July 20). Many of us in Princeton hope as avidly as she wishes defeat, that President Nixon will be re-elected.

The Republican convention will soon be upon us and another lady from Princeton will be in Miami — Barbara Smoyer.

I trust TOWN TOPICS will give her journey to Florida equal coverage. Barbara is a highly competent person who has contributed unselfishly to the community on many fronts.
Personally, she has felt the tragedy of Viet Nam and in a quiet-spoken manner without flamboyancy, solidly supports the President in his bid for another term.

of a year. The New Jersey State Museum Planetarium has available a free booklet titled "Meteor Showers Through the Year," which tells when and where to look for the major showers. Copies may be obtained on request to the New Jersey State Museum Planetarium, Cultural Center, 205 West State Street, Trenton, New Jersey 08625.

The Museum is open Monday to Saturday from 9 to 5; Sundays from 2 to 5.

EIGHT ARE FINED

In Borough Court. Eight Princeton area residents were fined Monday in Borough traffic court.

They are: Daniel McComas, 22, Ellis Drive, Belle Mead, $15, hitchhiking in roadway; Ann Hughes, 24, Pretty Brook Road, $15, one-way violation; Daniel N. Lichty, 21, 575 Broad Street, Hopewell, $5 court costs, unsigned license; David C. Donald, 63, Lloyd Terrace, $10, improper backing or turning in street; Kenneth H. Berger, 19, 72 Clover Lane, $10 double parking; David W. Paul, 28, 400-C Butler Avenue, $15, improperly entering highway from private drive; John T. Rossi, 22, 285 Snowden Lane, $15, red light; and Roxanne B. Hart, 21, 197 Witherspoon Street, $10, no license and no registration in possession.

In a special court session last Wednesday, Henry A. Douglas Jr., 46, 30 Race Street, was fined $60 and had his license revoked for six months for driving while impaired by alcohol. He pleaded not guilty.

3 QUESTIONS ON BALLOT

In November, New Jersey voters will be spared a ballot "loaded" with various bond and constitutional amendment referendum questions at this year's General Election. There will be three public questions presented on November 7 as a result of action of the State Legislature.

Approved for submission to the voters is a proposed $650,000,000 transportation bond issue and two constitutional amendments. One of the latter would authorize senior citizen organizations to conduct bingo games, while the other would set the terms of New Jersey Secretary of State and the Attorney General "at the pleasure of the Governor." Instead of coinciding with the Chief Executive's tenure. This minor language change was recommended by the Governor's Management Commission to bring uniformity in appointment of heads of most major State departments.

Left in limbo when the lawmakers adjourned on July 17 were scores of bills and resolutions which, if enacted, could have made a voter groggy. These will remain alive for possible legislative action late this year or at the second annual session of the 195th Legislature convening early in 1973.

Among nearly 100 constitutional amendment resolutions introduced thus far in the Legislature, fewer than a score emerged from committee to be given public hearings required prior to legislative consideration. Among these were proposals to require voter approval of school district mergers, court consolidation, staggered terms of members of the Senate, increased salaries of legislative leaders and a measure to create the office of a lieutenant governor. Some bills passed one house of New Jersey's bicameral State Legislature but not the other.

A series of four resolutions designed to implement the proposed tax reform legislation through constitutional amendment were left unmoved when the key income tax bill was rejected in the Assembly.

Emphasizing the desirability of keeping the State's basic law simple and clear, the New Jersey Taxpayers Association recently observed that a constitutional amendment is "the most extreme procedure by which the elected body of the State and the public can place its opinions into law." The Association advised that specific details be excluded from the Constitution "to give necessary flexibility to meet the changing needs of a state like New Jersey."

RAFT TRIP PLANNED
By Ski Club. A weekend raft trip down the Youghiogheny River in western Pennsylvania is set, for Saturday and Sunday, August 12 and 13, by the Princeton Ski Club.

"Not quite the Grand Canyon, but enough of a rafting adventure to make you want to try the Grand Canyon, or be glad that you aren't on the Grand Canyon," tour leader Lyndon Berry comments.

Plans call for travel on Friday evening, camp overnight early up on Saturday for the trip down the river, and camp again on Saturday evening with a gourmet dinner. On Sunday there is a possibility of river canoeing in rubber kayaks called "ducks," before heading home in the afternoon.

The Ski Club holds barbecue get-togethers on most Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. Information on the ever-changing location is available from Paul Russo, president at 413-1320, or from Bill Phillips, vice-president 921-2732.

BARBQUE PLANNED
In West Windsor. The West Windsor Volunteer Fire Co. No. 1 is sponsoring a Chicken Bar-B-Que Dinner with corn on the cob on Sunday, August 13, Dutch Neck Firehouse on South Iron road from 5 p.m. at the Mill Road in Princeton Junction. The donation for adults is $2.50 and children under 12, $1.50.

A few words from Phil Chue on behalf of cheating at antiques.

There are two ways of getting the antiques you've always wanted, find them or make them. Our way is to make them. For several reasons. We can concentrate on our own quality pieces. We can coordinate them with up-hoisted pieces and hand-crafted accessories. And we can create custom pieces to match your particular dream. Thomas Jefferson didn't own a stereo. But you can own one that he'd like the look of. We've filled a showroom with creations and recreations you'd like.

Hutch table, Colonial answer for crowded apartments. A triple-duty beauty: top down, it's a table; top up, it's a seat; under the seat, you get storage.

'Meals' Now Permanent on Princeton's Menu

"Meals on Wheels" is no longer a pilot, but a full-fledged program, now operating under the guidance of the Princeton Chapter of the Red Cross.

Since "Meals" was launched last March by the Council of Community Services, it has provided 803 meals to 33 different shut-in, convalescent clients, at a cost of $2.50 per visit.

The $2.50 tab provides a hot mid-day luncheon delivered at the same time as a cold sandwich-dinner supper. Milk is provided, but clients must brew their own tea or coffee.

Most "Meals" clients are elderly, not quite up to shopping for groceries or preparing meals. But there is no age limit on participation — the young career man or woman living alone and convalescing from flu or a broken bone, is just as welcome as the grandparent.

Nor is there a time limit. Chronically ill clients may have service for an indefinite time. Convalescents may, as several have, eat "Meals" for a week or two. One day's notice is required as a rule before the wheels can begin to turn for an individual new-comer. (Call the Red Cross, 242-4011.)

Menus Are Varied. For the luncheon, a "Meals" customer will have either hot soup or a green salad, bread or a hot roll with butter. The main dish may be Beef Stroganoff on rice; baked potato with Salisbury Steak; spaghetti and meatballs. Once there was even Chicken Cordon Bleu!

If the lunch has cake or pie for dessert, a fresh blueberry pie not long ago then the cold evening supper will provide fresh fruit in some form. The sandwich could be sliced egg, bacon-lettuce-tomato, sliced chicken, with mayonnaise or mustard on the side.

All meals are prepared in the kitchen of Princeton House, the Princeton Medical Center's mental health unit, under the supervision of Maxine E. McCowan, the diet director.

If a client has special dietary needs, some provision can be made without additional cost, but so far "Meals" isn't quite ready for elaborate special diets.

The two meals go out each day at mid-day with volunteers, and one of the most important parts of the service is the brief chat the volunteer has with the client.

Often lonely and shut off from the world, the "Meals" clients look forward to these warm and friendly conversations as much as to the warm meal in hand.

Can You Help? Volunteers, as always, are always needed. It takes about 11-12 hours each day to make the deliveries, and they are made five days a week. Volunteers may call the Red Cross to sign up.

Initial financing for "Meals" came from The Soroptomist Club, which donated $250, and from Kiwanis, Princeton Polytechnic Press, and anonymous donors, for a total of $1,000.

The Soroptomists have just given a second $250, but "Meals" could use more contributions, even $5 or $10. The Medical Center charges $2 for the meal package, and the additional 50 cents is used to cover nominal administrative and insurance costs and to subsidize clients who can't afford the $2.50 themselves.

Mrs. Richard Pearson, chairman of the Council of Community Service's Committee on the Aging and now acting director of the Council, Mrs. David O. Johnson, Mrs. George Stevens and Mrs. Charles D. Allen are administrative volunteers.

SUBDIVISION DENIED

For Beatty Lot, The Borough Zoning Board last week denied Richard Rubin, present owner of historic Beatty House on the corner of Vandewater and Park Place, his application to subdivide his lot. The decision was reached on the basis that he failed to illustrate how his new lot fronting on Park Place on which he said, he intended to build a single family dwelling. His attorney, William C. Baggett, told the board that Mr. Rubin was trying to fulfill a need for more housing in the Borough and at the same time use the property to its fullest possible extent.

He needed three variations to permit the major subdivisions: lot depth the new lot would be only 80 feet deep instead of the required 100 feet setback he needed 25 feet lot was asking for a 10 foot setback to conform with existing setbacks on Park Place; and a rear yard variance of 101 feet for the Beatty House that would be created if the subdivision were approved.

Jeffrey R. Ford, a Princeton architect, commented that he thought the Board would be well advised to grant this application. It will do more to enhance the zoning intent to make this a residential zone, he said. The house and lot are located in an R4 zone and it will improve the residential character of Park Place.

Vincent R. Gregg Jr., of 31 Madison Street didn't see it that way. Telling the board he had lived there 60 years, he said, "I've seen a lot of changes in the neighborhood."

"Park Place, Madison, Moore, Vandewater...it's nothing but trucks and cars. It's getting to be a terrible neighborhood. I have no objections," he continued, "to Mr. Rubin building a house if he has room, but he doesn't. He could only build a mailbox if he conformed to the zoning requirements."

Recalling that a previous owner in the past had maintained a "large, lovely lot and grounds that were a pleasure to look at," Mr. Gregg added that if Mr. Rubin kept the place looking nice on Park Place he would be given "plenty of credit. There wouldn't be any money coming in but he would be given plenty of credit from the neighbors."

Beatty House, more recently owned by attorney Sydney Souler and earlier by Ardis Leigh, an antique dealer, is a block from Nassau Street; the area across the street is zoned residential office. Several applications have come before the zoning board attempting to change the residential use of the property. All have been denied.

Attorney Baggett pointed out that the proximity of the house to Nassau and the R4 zone made it attractive for commercial and office use. This would no longer be the case, he said if Dr. Rubin's application were granted.

Half a Lot. In a second case, the board granted variances in coverage and side yard requirements to permit Mrs. L. R. Goodyear of Belle Mead to add a one-story addition four feet in depth to the rear of a home at 13 Edgehill which she intends to purchase.

Both are pre-existing violations as the house, located in an R1 zone, is probably as much in violation of R1 bulk requirements as a house could be. Lots in a R1 zone need to be 20,000 square feet in area; the lot at 13 Edgehill contains less than 2,000 square feet.

Although Mrs. Goodyear wanted the addition to include the second floor, the board ruled only one floor after a neighbor, Mrs. Martha Stodman, 11 Edgehill, pointed out that the addition would block the view from her bedroom window. "It would change the character of the room considerably," she said. The houses at 11 and 13 Edgehill are only a few feet apart.

Attorney Gordon Strauss represented Mrs. Goodyear.

MUSEUM HAS EXHIBIT

On Endangered Species. To familiarize the public with the growing number of fish and wildlife species which are extinct or endangered in New Jersey, the New Jersey State Museum has opened an exhibit showing representative examples of some of these species.

The exhibit includes preserved specimens of the Shortnose Sturgeon, Cooper's Hawk, Bald Eagle, Osprey, Peregrine Falcon, Turkey, Heath Hen, Eskimo Curlew, Passenger Pigeon, Carolina Parakeet, Red-headed Woodpecker, River Otter, Bobcat and Black Bear. A model of a Bog Turtle also is shown.

The exhibit is located on the lower level of the State Museum in Trenton. It is based largely upon a 23-page report listing the rare or endangered fish and wildlife of New Jersey, which the State Museum issued last summer.

Copies of the report, entitled "Rare or Endangered Fish and Wildlife of New Jersey" are available without cost by writing to the Science Bureau, New

FLOOD CONTROL VITAL

Action Urged Now. Recent floods accompanying hurricane Agnes, which caused extensive damage in our state and ravaged areas of eastern Pennsylvania, once again dramatically and tragically illustrated the vital need to halt practices which aggravate flooding.

As the most densely populated state in the nation, we are exposed to special dangers by developments which encroach on lands that formerly retained water and retarded flooding. With our population continuing to expand, the need for additional homes, for places of employment, for stores and places of recreation will continue to grow also, and this means that more and more undeveloped areas will disappear.

The open areas that acted as giant sponges, absorbing water from rainfall and snowfall, and then gradually yielding it to the streams, are being replaced with structures which produce just the opposite conditions. Buildings, parking lots, driveways, sidewalks and streets, all repel water, channeling it through storm drainage systems to streams for instant disposal. But there are limits to the capacities of streams. There are times when conditions combine to exceed those capacities. The result is flooding and destruction and even loss of human life.

Since we know what causes the problem, and can predict that unless preventive measures are taken the problem will re-occur, it makes sense that the measures to prevent it from happening again be taken as swiftly as possible.

Cooperation Essential. The streams which drain our state extend beyond municipal and even county jurisdictions, so the remedy must involve cooperative action on a broad scale. I have, therefore, proposed the Flood Plain Regulation Act. It empowers the Department of Environmental Protection to make rules and regulations, particularly zoning regulations, to reduce the danger of flooding.

Under the proposed bill, the Department is authorized to adopt, amend and repeal rules and regulations concerning the development and use of land in any designated floodway or stream channel and adjacent area which are reasonably required to discharge flood water.

Also, the Department will establish minimum standards of rules and regulations governing the development and use of land in flood fringe areas for adoption by the local jurisdictions. The municipalities would have one year in which to adopt these rules, or they would be invoked by the state. These, of course, are minimum standards. The towns would be empowered to adopt even more restrictive regulations if they desire.

Public Support. The legislation has been under consideration by the Assembly since early this year, but unfortunately it has not yet gone to the floor for a vote. This is despite the fact we have received many requests for this type of protection.

When catastrophe strikes, we are quick to respond to help the victims and repair the damage. We also resolve that measures should be taken to prevent the catastrophe from happening again. Unfortunately, that resolution seems to diminish as the memory of the tragedy fades.

Isn't it more sensible to act now while there is still time, before uncontrolled development makes remedies almost impossible or impossibly expensive? This is a problem which affects just about all sections of our state, and therefore one which you should discuss with your legislative representative.

ERERWON TRUSTEES MEET

Plan New Direction. The Board of Directors of Erewhon, an experimental school on Bear Brook Road, Princeton Junction, have decided to emphasize a new program of integrated academic and practical activities next year.

The new direction will be oriented toward community support projects, which the directors state will bring the student into the mainstream of life. He will be more motivated to develop talents not accessible by conventional teaching methods.

Emphasis on real-life studies will not impede the integration of various disciplines, such as mathematics or history, the school said in a release to the press. "The imaginative staff will bring them into play as the various projects evolve." The directors anticipate few changes in the 10-room farmhouse now used as a school. Shop facilities will include a woodworking lathe, repaired by a parent.

Information on Erewhon School is available through Robert E. Mueller 448-2605.

487 PATIENTS TREATED In Princeton House. In the first year of its operation, Princeton House has treated 487 "in-patient" patients, according to figures released this week by Dr. William A. Phillips, medical director.

WELL DONE, AND THANKS! Dr. Edwin D. Rogers (right) senior attending staff member of the Princeton Medical Center's department of Psychiatry, accepts a testimonial gift from Dr. William A. Phillips, medical director of Princeton House, representing the center's trustees and the Princeton House staff. Dr. Rogers was acting director of Princeton House before Dr. Phillips' appointment, and did the initial planning and developing of the care and treatment program.

Princeton House, on Mt. Lucas Road, is the Princeton Medical Center's unit for the treatment of drug abuse, alcoholism and mental disorders. It opened last July. During the past year, Dr. Phillips said, the unit has been organizing its outpatient and partial hospitalization programs, and has been recruiting staff in all departments.

Compounded Quarterly

Our Regular Passbook Account is not a savings certificate with set time and dollar requirements, nor is it the type of account where you must maintain a minimum balance or give 90 days notice when you want to withdraw any money. It's the old fashioned, standard, garden variety savings account... deposit any amount at any time and withdraw any amount at any time, providing you with total flexibility. What's more, it pays 5% a year compounded quarterly, and savings received by the 10th of any month earn interest from the 1st of that month. All of which proves once again that where you save does make a difference and the big difference is at Princeton Savings.

PEOPLE In The News

Thomas Hazen, son of Mr. and Mrs. David C. Hazen of 111 Galbreath Drive, East, will enter Claremont (Calif.) College this fall. A liberal arts institution, it is one of five residential undergraduate colleges and a graduate school that comprise Claremont. The Men's College has enrolled 272 freshmen.

Kenneth H. Scott III, of 627 Kingston Road, has been named to the dean's list at Jacksonville (Fla.) University for the spring session. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth H. Scott.

William B. Jennings of 2 Mansgrove Lane has joined the investment firm of E. F. Hutton & Company, Inc., New York, as vice-president-corporate finance and director of acquisitions and mergers. He was formerly assistant to the president of U.S. Industries, Inc. and director of diversification of United Fruit Company, now United Brands. He has been with McKinsey & Company, management consultants, and in recent years has served a wide range of companies as a private consultant on corporate development and acquisitions.

Christine E. Uher is cited on the dean's list at Mary Washington College for maintaining straight "A" records for the second semester. She was one of 74 students to be honored. A graduate of Princeton High School, she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Uher of Cranbury. Barbara C. Young, a 1970 graduate of Hopewell Valley Central High School, has also been named to the dean's list. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Young of Titusville.

The 1972 Fermi Federation Achievement Award has been given to Dr. Joseph File of 10 Millbrook Lane, Lawrence Township "for his many professional and civic achievements which have reflected with honor and distinction upon all people of Italian heritage."

Dr. File, a native of Lecce, Italy, has won international recognition and honors for his work in controlled fusion energy research. In 1958 he was an official State Department delegate to the second Atoms for Peace conference in Geneva, Switzerland. In 1966 he was awarded the Commander of the Order of Merit by the President of Italy "recognition of his achievements in the fields of science and engineering."

A resident of this country since boyhood, the recipient of a Ph.D. degree in mechanical engineering from Columbia University in 1968, Dr. File is a senior technical staff member at Princeton University, a member of the Lawrence Township Board of Education, president of the National Marine Corps Scholarship Foundation, and, with the rank of colonel in the reserves, is commanding officer of the Marine Corps Volunteer Training Unit at Lakehurst Naval Air Station.

The annual Achievement Award dinner-dance of the Fermi Federation is scheduled for October 29 at the Roman Hall, Trenton. Angelo V. Candelori is president.

Navy Fireman Apprentice George R. Dickovitch Jr., son of Mrs. Dickovitch of Route 31, Hopewell, has sailed for the Western Pacific aboard the guided missile destroyer USS Robison, whose home port is San Diego.

Army Private Hugh B. Horton II, son of Mrs. Beverly W. Chiorazzo, 2 Wheeler Way, has completed eight weeks of basic training at Ft. Jackson, S. C. Pvt. Horton received his training with Company C of the 2d Brigade's 7th Battalion. He is a 1971 graduate of Kecoughtan High School, Hampton, Va.

Lieutenant John L. Mac Michael, USN, is commanding officer of the tanker USS Chewaucan, based at Charleston, S. C. A graduate of the United States Naval Academy in 1965, he previously served as operations officer of the destroyer escort USS Bradley, Lt. Mac Michael is the son of Commander and Mrs. E. A. Mac Michael of 87 Jefferson Road.

Navy Lieutenant (junior grade) Ross P. Wilcox, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross C. Wilcox of 161 Ridgeview Circle has been awarded the Navy Commendation Medal for his outstanding performance as missile technician aboard the Yokosuka, guided missile light cruiser USS Oklahoma City while the ship was engaged in support of Vietnam combat operations. He is a 1967 graduate of the University of Wisconsin.

Dr. Leonard D. Polioff 70 Balsam Lane, chairman of the Department of Rehabilitation Medicine, at the Princeton Medical Center, will preside at the annual meeting of the American Congress of Rehabilitation Medicine to be held in Denver, Col. beginning August 19.

Dr. Polioff, who also serves as Medical Director at Merwick, assumed the presidency of the international group last November. He is scheduled to deliver the presidential address to more than some 1,200 delegates, discussing "Rehabilitation Medicine Revisited."

During the week-long Denver sessions, Dr. Polioff will present a report on a three-year research project financed by the United States Department of Health, Education and Welfare relating to the need for broader distribution of professional responsibility in the field of rehabilitation medicine on the part of allied health professionals.

Dr. Polioff, who has developed an extensive and comprehensive extended care and rehabilitation program at the Medical Center's Merwick unit since being named Rehabilitation Medicine Department chairman in 1971, formerly served in a similar capacity at both Hahnemann Medical College and Hospital and the Temple University Health Science Center in Philadelphia.

Peter H. Kohn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Immanuel Kohn, 34 Puritan Court, has graduated from the Blair Summer School for Journalism, attending the six-week program in Blairstown as a Trenton Times Scholarship Award winner.

Open to students across the country, who have demonstrated an above average ability in journalism, the program normally accepts only those who have completed their junior or senior year of high school. Peter, who is co-editor of "The Tower," will be a junior at Princeton High this fall.

HUN IS NEWCOMER

To PHS Grid Schedule. When the Hun School football team was trampling everyone in sight in the Penn-Jersey prep school league, winning 33 in a row, there was a question of just how good was the Red and Black. How would Hun stack up against a public school team?

The answer will be forthcoming this fall. Hun is one of three new opponents on the Princeton High School football schedule for 1972 released this week by PHS athletic director Norman Van Arsdalen. The game will be played November 11 at the PHS field and promises to be the inaugural of an exciting inter-community rivalry.

Both teams incidentally, had sub-par seasons last year. PHS, riddled with problems, lost all of its eight games. Hun, after putting together that streak of 33-the longest unbroken record of any school in the state at the time-fell victim to an aroused BMI team playing its final ever finishing with a dismal 3-5 record.

Two more newcomers to the PHS schedule are St. Anthony's and Hillsborough. Dropped were Notre Dame and Cherry Hill, which means that PHS will be back to its normal policy of nine contests.

The schedule: Sept. 23, Hamilton, away; 30, Ewing; Oct. 7, St. Anthony's, away; 14, Hillsborough, away; 21, Bridgewater Raritan West; 28, Perth Amboy; Nov. 4, Steinert, away; 11, Hun; 18, Trenton.

IT'S IN THE FAMILY

Dave Bush Follows Lesley. Small boys have been known to look up to their older sisters, and maybe that's part of the reason why Dave Bush will follow in the footsteps of his sister, Lesley, when he represents the United States as an Olympic diver in Munich, Germany, this month.

A 21-year old senior at the University of Wisconsin, Dave qualified Saturday for one of three places on the men's three-meter board team. To do so, he rose in the standings during the final round in Chicago from seventh place to third with three near-perfect dives.

Dave began diving at the age of 8, and was 13 when his 17-year old sister won the gold medal in the 10-meter platform dive at Tokyo in 1964. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Donald H. Bush of 244 Dods Lane.

Swimming runs in the family-even to the in-laws. A younger brother, Jeff, swims for the University of Oregon. Lesley, now a science teacher in Arizona, is married to Charles Hickey, who is the swimming coach at the University of Arizona in Tucson. This summer, she is teaching diving at the Stony Brook Swim Club in Hopewell.

A DAY FOR MORRISON

Jaycees to Honor Joe. The only member of the New York Giants to play in every Palmer Stadium game against the Philadelphia Eagles will be honored when the two teams meet here September 2 for the 11th time.

Joe Morrison, who in an era of specialists has played a total of six positions and seen action on both platoons, is unmatched among the Giants for sheer versatility. He has served as fullback, halfback, tight end, flanker, split end and, on the other side of the line, as a defensive back.

Morrison's all-around skills have frequently enabled the Giants to solve problems caused by injuries because he can step in at so many places. Proof of his ability lies in his selection on several occasions as the team's most valuable player.

SOMETHING old or new to sell? Try a Town Topics Classified. Call 924-2200 today.

The Giants' no. 3 draft choice in 1959, Morrison had a fine career as quarterback for the University of Cincinnati. He set a scoring mark at his alma mater with 128 points and tied another with 21 touchdowns. In his senior year, he led the Missouri Valley Conference in rushing, scoring and pass receiving while doubling as quarterback and halfback. It is primarily as a receiver that Morrison has stood out for the Giants.

Tickets for the game, to be played the Saturday before Labor Day, may be purchased by calling (609) 443-3344 or writing the Jaycee Football Classic, P. O. Box 1972, Hightstown. Checks or money orders should accompany reservations; tickets are priced at $9, $7 and $5.

LUCAR TAKES TITLE

In Babe Ruth Baseball. Lucar Hardware scored two victories last week to win the championship in the rain-delayed West Windsor Babe Ruth Baseball League.

In the showdown game with Will's Shail-both teams tied at 4-1 records-Joe Czeslowski pitched Lucar to a 3-1 triumph as he limited his opponents to four hits, a homer and double by Tom Murphy and singles by Steve Hurlburt and Jim Howard. Lucar's runs were scored on a double by Bill Schroeder and singles by Randy Waring, Mark Diezemann, Don Hutchinson and Czeslowski, who ended the season with a 4-1 record.

Earlier, pitcher Mark Diezemann notched his fifth win without a defeat as Lucar romped over Harbort, 10-2. Diezemann helped his cause at the plate by pounding out a double and single, while Bill Schroeder hit a triple and a single and Don Hutchinson added two singles to Lucar's hitting spree. Harbort was limited to three singles, by Dave Duncan, John Costas and Dave Bornheimer.

By winning the second-half title, Lucar clinched the season championship without a playoff since it also had won the first-half title. Gus Diezemann was the manager throughout the season for Lucar's champions.

Tiger Quintet to Play 27 Games Next Winter

Princeton University's basketball team, entering upon its sixth season under the leadership of Coach Peter J. Carril and faced with the problem of replacing four lettermen, including All-American Brian Taylor, will enter two holiday tournaments and play a total of 27 games next winter.

Opening its campaign here November 29 against Penn State, the Tigers, Ivy League runners-up last winter, will play five non-league games before competing on December 15-16 in the Marshall College Tournament in Huntington, W. Va., where the field will consist of Princeton, Marshall, Baylor and Florida State universities.

Between Christmas and New Year's, the Orange and Black, captained by Ted Manakas of Fort Lee, will participate in the Quaker City Tournament in Philadelphia's Palestra. Appearing with Princeton will be Duquesne, Georgia, LaSalle, New Mexico, Rhode Island, St. Joseph's and Southern California.

The Nassau freshmen, making their debut under Robert K. Dukiet, former Dartmouth assistant coach, who has succeeded B. Arthur Hyland, newly named Assistant to the Commissioner of the Eastern College Athletic Conference, will play 16 junior varsity or freshman teams representing traditional opponents.

Princeton's 1972-73 schedule: Nov. 29, Penn State; Dec. 2, Villanova at Philadelphia; 7, Rutgers, at Madison Square Garden, New York City; 9, Davidson; 12, University of Virginia; 15-16, Marshall College Tournament (Baylor, Florida State, Marshall, Princeton), at Huntington, W. Va.; 27-30, Quaker City Tournament (Duquesne, Georgia, LaSalle, New Mexico, Princeton, Rhode Island, St. Joseph's, Southern California) at the Palestra.

Jan. 5, Harvard at Cambridge; 6, Dartmouth at Hanover; 13, Pennsylvania; 16, Temple; 27, Navy; 29, Pennsylvania at Philadelphia.

Feb. 2, Brown; 3, Yale; 9, Cornell; 10, Columbia; 16, Columbia at New York; 17, Cornell at Ithaca; 23, Yale at New Haven; 24, Brown at Providence; Mar. 2, Dartmouth; 3, Harvard.

Princeton's 1972-73 freshmen schedule:

Dec. 2, Lehigh at Bethlehem; 6, Rutgers; 9, Villanova at Philadelphia; Jan. 6, Seton Hall at South Orange; 11, Lafayette; 13, Navy; 31, Army at West Point.

Feb. 3, LaSalle; 9, Temple; 10, Columbia; 14, Rutgers; 16, Columbia; 21, Pennsylvania; 23, Yale at New Haven; 27, Manhattan; Mar. 1, Pennsylvania at Philadelphia.

HEADED FOR PLAYOFFS? Staats Electric has been the surprise team of the Princeton Adult Softball league this season and seems a cinch to enter the playoffs this month, despite two losses last week. At left is Robert Staats, pitcher and manager; Doug Ruhlman plays third base for the Electricians.

was the losers' Mark Anderson who batted 3-for-3.

Earlier in a key contest with Staats, Ivy blasted 19 hits for an easy 11-3 decision. Tony Pirone and Doug Watson both were a perfect 4-for-4 at the plate. Staats got one run in the first off three hits. It could have been more but Britton snared a line drive off the bat of Rob Staats and doubled Doug Ruhlman off first. It remained 1-0 until the fourth when Watson rifled a two-run homer deep to right. The Barmen then put it away with uprisings in the sixth and seventh innings that produced nine runs.

Staats was tripped up again when it was outslugged 11-10 by Conte's Bar. With the score tied, 7-7, the Electricians scored three runs for a 10-7 lead. Victory was just three outs away.

Conte's refused to roll over, however. The Barmen combined five hits, including a game winning double by Jim Quinn, for the win. Quinn batted 4-for-4. Led by Gary Drake who had four hits in four at bats, Staats outlived Conte's 18-17. It was small consolation.

Conte's second victory was over Nassau Conover by virtue of a nine-hit, seven-run fifth inning. Until then, Conte's, which was outlived by Nassau Conover, 15 to 11, had been held in check by the patching of Tom Brophy.

Third place Teague and Hinds got some badly needed hitting and trounced winless Andy's Tavern with a 22-hit attack and a 13-2 victory. Robert Bosley, Fran Brooks, George McVaughn and Cap Crossland each had three hits for the team.

Harrison Athletic Club evened its record at 5-5 and boosted its chances for a playoff spot by coming from behind to edge Princeton Athletic Club, 6-5. HAC overcame a 4-0 deficit. John Claghorn homered in the contest.

In its other start, PAC defeated Grover's Hustlers behind a 21-hit attack. Pat Corvino, 4-for-4, Floyd Phox, Sam Procaccini, Jerry Perpetua, John Pesce and Lou John Rossi supplied the power in two four-run innings for the victors. Final tally was 12-2.

The week was not a total loss for the Hustlers: they won their second game of the season, picking on Andy Tavern for the victory. The Hustlers parlayed nine hits into 10 runs, while the most Andy's could muster was six runs.

The standings:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Ivy Inn	11	1	.917
Conte's	8	2	.800
Teague's	7	4	.636
Staats	6	4	.600

FINALS THURSDAY

In Davis Cup Competition. Final rounds of the Davis Cup competition sponsored by the Princeton Community Tennis Program will be held Thursday at noon at the University Courts. Awards will be presented at 3 at the Pagoda to winning teams and individuals.

Although Brazil remains in first place with 700 points as a result of the continued fine play of Vera Jesser and Hugo Walter the leading scorers in the league, the final outcome is still in doubt. Trailing Brazil are Mexico (661), France (597), Italy (591), Sweden (577), England (534), Canada (484) and Germany 435.

High scorers for each team are Walter, Brazil, 130; Dan Schulman, Mexico, 80; Simon Hattner, France, 84; Dan Amaro, Italy, 72; David Myerhoff, Sweden, 73; Steve Ebersole, England, 66; Ann Magge, Canada, 72; and Andrew Hildick-Smith, Germany, 76.

No. 49 Wasn't Listed, But He Beat Yale with Three Touchdowns

If Royce Flippin, Princeton's newly-appointed director of athletics, ever wanted to prove that he was in the Yale Bowl on November 13, 1954, he'd have to dig out the newspaper clippings for the following morning. The day the game was played, his name wasn't even on the press-box depth chart.

Less than a month before the contest with the powerful Elis, who were undefeated in their first six games that fall, the Tiger tailback had broken his wrist. Calling from New Haven a few days prior to the meeting of the traditional rivals, Charley Loftus, Yale's director of sports information, checked out Princeton's probable starting lineup and immediate reserves with his Princeton counterpart, Dan Coyle.

"You ought to get Flippin's name in there some where," Coyle suggested — more out of sentiment than in any belief that the Tiger hall carrier might see action.

"Forget it," Loftus replied. "His wrist is still in a cast — we'll be surprised if he even dresses for the game."

Early Yale Fumble. On a sunny, chill afternoon, with upwards of 50,000 banked around the Bowl, Princeton began the game with Sid Pinch, a slightly-built converted fullback, at tailback, and Flippin on the bench. For obvious reasons, there had been no announcement of the fact that 43 hours before the kickoff, x-rays had shown Flippin's wrist to have healed and he was given full medical clearance to play.

Three plays into the game, Yale quarterback Dean Loucks fumbled. Pinch (playing the two-way football of that era as a defensive back) recovered and Princeton had the ball on the Blue 25. When the Tigers moved to a first on the Yale 12, number 49 ran in from the sidelines and sportswriters unfamiliar with the Tiger lineup were informed by the press-box announcer that it was Flippin. Their depth charts were of little use.

IN THE MID '50s: Royce Flippin, three-year tailback in the single wing system which the late Charlie Caldwell used to bring many a victory to Princeton. One of the most unexpected was the 21-14 upset of Yale in Flippin's junior year.

Princeton erased the remaining distance in four plays, Flippin racing around the weak side from three yards out. Fullback Dick Martin booted the extra point and with just over four minutes gone, Princeton had a 7-0 upstart lead.

For better than three periods, that was the only score, yet no Princeton rooter that day was ready to believe this well-balanced, high-scoring Yale team would fail to cross the goal line in 60 minutes against the undermanned Princetonians. Even when Flippin raised the margin to 14-0 with a 30-yard gallop around left end early in the final quarter, Yale power still seemed ready to burst the seams. The key block on Flippin's second TD, incidentally, was thrown by guard John Sienkiewicz, now living on Wainfield Drive.

Two Quick Yale TDs. Less than six minutes later, the Elis drove 62 yards in seven plays, dominating the action in the manner they had been expected to from the start. Then they regained possession and marched 72 yards in nine plays to deadlock the game at 14-14 with just 3:55 to go.

With the clock starting to run out, Princeton began a drive from its own 32 and Yale's defense could afford to remain tightly knit because Flippin's injury had kept him from throwing more than two passes all afternoon. The Tigers' running attack kept the ball in their possession, but painstakingly, and with less than a minute to go, they were still 39 yards short of the end zone.

Charlie Caldwell's often spectacular buck lateral series set up the winning TD. Martin took the snap from center John Henn, handed off to reserve quarterback John Emery, who spotted sophomore end Don MacElwee on the Eli five. A desperation grab by an Eli defender spilled MacElwee on the three just after he caught Emery's accurate pass, but the Tigers lined up without a huddle. Flippin shot off right tackle and hit the end zone with plenty to spare.

Yale ran the following kick off out of bounds to stop the clock and had time for one abortive pass before the game ended. Flippin's performance put his name in the record book, but there never was a solution for that depth chart the Yalies printed without any mention of number 49.

FORM PREVAILS

In Tennis Tourney Here, Lorie Savage and Dan Schulman, the two top seeds in the Princeton Junior Tennis Championships for 14 and under held last week at the Community Park courts, lived up to their ranking by winning individual championships. The new event is sponsored by the Princeton Recreation Department.

Lorie defeated unseeded Mary Lane in the finals, 6-2, 6-0. Mary had reached the finals by upsetting the number two seed, Andrea Newman, 5-3, 7-6. Pat Rose also reached the semi-finals by defeating Debby Baumer, 6-3, 6-3, but then fell to Savage, 6-2, 6-1.

In the boys' division, Schulman defeated second seeded Dan Aronovic, 2-6, 6-2, 6-3. The latter had ousted fourth seeded Keith Usiskin in the semis, 7-6, 6-1.

Unseeded Gerry Thomas made a good showing, reaching the semi-final round by topping Dwight Wilson, 6-2, 6-3, who, in turn, had upset third seeded Fred Berkelhammer in an earlier round, 6-1, 6-3. Hugo Walter, David Bowen and Robert Alyhill also reached the quarter finals.

NATIONAL BIKE RACES

Four From Here Entered. Four Princeton teenagers are competing in the national bicycle racing championships being held this week in Wisconsin and sponsored by the Amateur Bicycle League of America.

Austin Ehrlich, 13, of Little Brook Road, and Barry Aronson, 14, of Woodside Lane, are competing in the track championships being held in Kenosha this Wednesday through Friday.

Fifteen-year-old Tom Andrus, Jr., of Quarry Street is competing in the road championship races being held Saturday and Sunday in Milwaukee. A sophomore at Hotchkiss School, Tom will enter a 50-mile race. Also competing in the girls' division is Linda Aronson.

All four are members of the Century Road Club of America, headquartered in Princeton, and all have been cycling this year since April, competing in races held almost every weekend in the East. The most recent cent was held in Roslyn, Long Island, and before that in Nutley.

 U-1 qualified in New Jersey state championships to earn the right to travel to Wisconsin where riders from most of the states have converged. Several hundred are competing in the various divisions for national honors.

SIX MORE QUALIFY
 For Swimming Championships. Six more swimmers from the Princeton Community Swimming program qualified on Sunday for the final of the New Jersey Junior Olympics. Maura Dorgan and Gretchen Wentzel both placed second in the qualifying meet at Mountlake on Sunday morning. Maura swam in the 100 meter backstroke race for girls 15-17 with a time of 1:17.3. Gretchen, in the 200 meter freestyle for girls 10 and under, swam a time of 2:57.6.

Drew Stevenson took a fourth place in the 200 freestyle for boys 10 and under, with a 2:46.7. Pancha Stackpole, in the 200 meter breaststroke for boys 13-14, swam a 3:16.7, and took fifth place. Janet Shivers came in sixth in the 200 meter breaststroke for girls 13-14, in a time of 3:20.0.

Other Princeton swimmers who competed were Mary Bolster, Valerie Hiel, Mary Lee Damitz, John Cummings, Bill Stevenson, Rick Gavenda, Valerie Ackerman, Abbie Bahr, Nancy Carver, and Cathie Stackpole.

TWO MORE VICTORIES
 For Nassau Swim Team. Two more victories, the most recent an exciting 156-152 victory over Cranbury Thursday, enabled the Nassau Swim Club to extend its unbeaten string to 5-0. Earlier, the team, coached by Bruce Nylstrom, stopped previously undefeated Ben Franklin Club, 161½-160½.

Against Cranbury, Nassau trailed most of the way but won the last four individual events and split eight relays to pull it out in dramatic fashion. Double winners were Gerry Garvey; Tom, Carrie and Andy Bolster. Other winners were Paul Leaney, Abby Harris, Colin Mahoney, Jay Kelly, Pierre Coutin, Beth Alberts and Mary Bolster.

The winning 8 and under boys 100-yard medley relay was comprised of Jeremy Wilson, Paul Outka, Paul Keane and Tim Rahr; Gerry Garvey, Charles Bolster, John Keane and Bobbie Hooks triumphed in the 10 and under medley relay.

Winning the 12 and under 200-yard medley were Marc Coutin, Jay Kelly, Tom Bolster and Jim Luganani. Abby Wilson, Cindy Dreyhaupt, Carrie Bolster and Diane Glassman won the same distance for girls 17 and under.

Double winners for Nassau in the Ben Franklin meet were Tim Rahr, Mary Bolster and Carrie Kidd. Single winners: Scott Comora, Carrie Bolster, Gerry Garvey, Abby Wilson, Val VanHorn, Dorothy Dyson, Andy Bolster and Pierre Coutin.

ETS IS DEFEATED
 By McGraw-Hill. In what may be prelude to a similar match up in the championships of the Business Softball League later this month, McGraw-Hill defeated ETS, 9-5, last week as the teams engaged in inter-division play.
 McGraw-Hill also won the first meeting between the teams, 7-6, on June 13, and would appear to be the favorite to take all the marbles this year, but ETS has a way of coming up with a strong game when the championship is at stake.

Bob Wood and Barry Bromell each had two hits for the winners, and Bromell and Paul Tannura had four baggers. Gerry Murphy led the loser's attack with two hits including a homer. Bill McDade got credit for the win, holding ETS to just seven hits.

 The loss dropped ETS back into a first place tie with RCA A, which also has an excellent shot at reaching the finals against McGraw-Hill. Always near the top in the standings, RCA has not captured a championship in several years.

It polished off FMC, which now has little hope of overtaking McGraw-Hill for first place, 17-13. RCA built up a 12 run lead in three innings, before FMC cut the deficit in half with a six-run outburst. The winners then wrapped it up with four more in the fifth. Mel Sanders and Hank Hood led RCA's attack with four hits each.

RCA B moved out of the cellar in the western division with a 12-6 triumph over NALPC. Steve Opreko went four for four and Phil Hyman gave up just two earned runs in going the distance.

Scores of other games: Firmenich 11, GFDL 8; and Cities Service 16, ERC 15, with the winners scoring eight runs on 11 consecutive hits in the bottom of the seventh inning to win it. Hopewell TV vs. Shearer Tree and Forrester vs. Cyanamid were rained out.

TENNIS TITLE WON
 By Randy Gulick. Randy Gulick won the girls 18 and under singles title of the New Jersey District Championships held at Holmdel last week when she defeated fellow Princetonian Sherri Baumer, 6-4, 6-4. Randy was seeded second.

Other entries from the Princeton area in the event included Jim Parmele, Todd Miller, Bobby Baumer, Dan Schulman, Phil Gloucevitch, Fred Berkelhammer, Jeff Lyle, Keith Usiskin, Andre Eichenberger, Dwight Wilson, John Silverman, David Baumer, Niki Gloucevitch, Suzanne Usiskin, Debbie Baumer, Sue Hurley, Natalie Usiskin and Stef Baum.

LEWIS TDPS FOSTER
 In Springdale Golf. In a match postponed several times by wet weather, Robert Lewis defeated Charlie Foster last week in the final round of the first flight in the Springdale Golf Club championship. Lewis' margin was 2 up.
 The 36-hole final in the championship round has been postponed until September. Maury Mather will meet Moore Gates, Jr. for the title.

BUSINESS In Princeton

ADR HAS RECORD SALES

As Red Ink Turns to Black. Record sales for both the second quarter and first half of 1972 were reported Saturday at the annual stockholder meeting of Applied Data Research, computer software firm based on Route 206.

President John R. Bennett said that revenues for continuing operations for the second quarter were $2,352,074 and for the first half, $4,368,531. These figures compare to $1,351,846 and $2,874,070 for the same periods in 1971.

Net earnings for the second quarter of 1972 were $80,513 ($.08 per share) and $94,103 ($.10 per share) for the first half. During 1971, the company reported losses of $164,856 in the second quarter and a $310,062 loss in the first half.

In commenting on the improved operating posture of the company, Mr. Bennett stated that the encouraging acceptance of the company's new proprietary software products, hardware - software systems, and a significant increase in sales and earnings of the computer time-sharing division contributed to operating results.

In addition, Mr. Bennett stated that the elimination of unprofitable operations and continuing budgetary controls were responsible for the encouraging results during the first half of the year.

Applied Data Research, Inc. stockholders voting at the annual meeting also approved the acquisition of COMSERV Corporation, a Philadelphia-based firm, engaged in the production and sale of commercially oriented time-shared services, as well as a new stock option and stock purchase plan for employees of the company. The stockholders also approved an increase in the number of shares of authorized common stock from 1,650,000 to 2,000,000 shares.

NET INCOME RISES

At Applied Research, Princeton Applied Research has announced net income of $130,300, or 23 cents per share, before an extraordinary item, for the six-month period ending June 30, as compared to income of $86,000 or 15 cents a share for the same period in 1971.

The extraordinary item, the sale of the firm's old headquarters in Montgomery Township, in January, 1971, netted $27,800, and boosted this year's earnings to $158,100 or 28 cents a share.

The firm attributed the increase in net income to increased sales volume, decreased cost of sales due to improved manufacturing efficiency and indefinite deferred tax treatment on the income of PAR International.

Operating and administrative expenses increased by $230,000 for the six-month period, although they remained constant as a percentage of sales. A significant portion of the increase in operating and administrative expenses was due to higher levels of research and development expense with in SSR Instruments Co. (SSRI) and due to consolidating for the first time during the second quarter, the operations of Germany, and Princeton Metal PAR GmbH in Munich, West Germany, and Princeton Metal Systems Corporation (PMS).

PAR is preparing to file a registration statement with the SEC for an initial underwritten public offering of somewhere between 100,000 and 200,000 shares of its common stock. It is anticipated that the offering will take place toward the end of the year.

TWO ARE PROMOTED

By Educational Testing. Two area residents have been promoted to new positions at Educational Testing Service.

Dr. John A. Winterbottom, 25 Random Road, has been promoted to associate division director of ETS General Programs. Since he joined ETS in 1953, he has participated in the direction of various test programs.

In his new position, Mr. Winterbottom will have continuing responsibility for such national test programs as the Law School Admission Test, the Graduate Record Examinations and the Multistate Bar Examination. In addition, he will have broader responsibility for divisional administration.

Mr. Winterbottom received his Ph.D. in English from Yale University in 1948 and taught for several years before joining ETS.

In another staff promotion, Dr. Richard L. Burns of Yardley, Pa. was appointed director of College and University Programs.

He was formerly program director of the Graduate Record Examinations taken each year by more than 350,000 college students as part of the admissions requirements for many of the nation's graduate schools.

His new responsibilities include the GRE program and the Institutional Research Program in Higher Education, ETS' Undergraduate Program in its Junior College Program. Mr. Burns joined ETS in 1964. He holds a Ph.D. from Purdue University.

GROUND IS BROKEN

For the Rusty Scupper. Featuring prime Kansas City beef, seafood including lobsters flown in from Maine, and entertainment six nights a week, the Rusty Scupper restaurant will open on the Princeton scene, hopefully by December 15.

Named after a well-known tugboat that plied the San Francisco harbor, the restaurant will be the ninth in a chain owned by the Borel restaurant Company of San Mateo, Calif. Charles A. Greathouse and Leighton H. Laughlin, both of Princeton, are partners in the venture.

Lunch and dinner will be served and diners will be able to make their own salad. Capacity will be 180, with a banquet room holding about 60.

EARNINGS UP

At Systemedics. Earnings of seven cents a share on a net profit of $67,406 for the first six months of 1972 as compared to a two cents per share loss on a deficit of $21,438 for the same period last year have been announced by William Krause, president of Systemedics, Inc.

The firm's sales also rose from $1,026,472 last year to $1,636,927 in 1972. Mr. Krause said the company expects a strong second half with higher sales and profits based on new business already contracted and phasing into Systemedics Regional processing facilities.

Systemedics has recently been awarded a government subcontract to help establish and manage 120 medical offices situated in medically underserved areas. This program will continue for at least one year and may be extended, according to Richard Bergman, executive vice-president. The company has also received a contract to perform management consulting for a start-up Health Maintenance Organization (HMO), which also has received funds from HEW.

Obituaries

Americo Castro, 87, emeritus Ford professor of Spanish at Princeton University, died July 25 while summering on the Costa Brava, northwest of Barcelona, Spain. He was one of the world's most distinguished Hispanists.

Professor Castro was known on the Princeton campus as a "teacher among teachers." His unofficial evening courses, presented informally in his study, gave volunteer students a better grasp of the importance of human values, in that Professor Castro was invariably concerned with the Spanish sense of life.

A native of Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, Dr. Castro studied in Spain and held for nearly 25 years a chair at the University of Madrid. Between 1913 and 1936 he helped found the university's famed research center for humanist studies. He lectured at universities throughout the world on Spanish culture and history, and received honorary degrees from European and Latin American universities.

During 1931-32, Dr. Castro was Spain's ambassador to Germany. He went into exile when Franco rose to power in 1937. Coming to this country that same year, he served as an adviser to the Guggenheim Memorial Foundation and taught at the Universities of Wisconsin and Texas before joining Princeton's department of romance languages and literatures in 1940. He retired in 1953 from Princeton, which conferred on him a decade later the honorary degree of doctor of letters.

After retirement, Professor Castro joined the faculty of the La Jolla branch of the University of California. He returned to Spain several years ago.

A prolific author of books and articles, Dr. Castro was particularly noted for "El Pensamiento de Cervantes" (1924) and "La Realidad Histórica de España" (1933). The latter work, in its several revisions, has been translated in various languages, appearing in English first as "The Structure of Spanish History" (1954) and recently, much reworked, as "The Standards" (1971).

He was an honorary member of the Hispanic Society of America and of several Latin American organizations. He was also active in the Modern Language Association and the Medieval Academy of America.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Carmen Castro de Zubiri of Madrid, and a son, Luis Castro Madrazo of Vienna. His wife, the former Carmen Madrazo, died last fall.

The burial took place in Madrid.

Mrs. Thelma Clark Bushnell, of 71 Palmer Square died July 30 in Princeton Medical Center. She had been a Princeton resident since 1925.

Born in Kalamazoo, Mich., Mrs. Bushnell had attended Hollins College, Roanoke, Va.,

and Whittier College, Springfield, O. She was the wife of Asa S. Bushnell, former Director of Athletics at Princeton and for more than three decades Commissioner of the Eastern College Athletic Conference.

In addition to her husband, Mrs. Bushnell is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Barbara Leonard of Scottsdale, Ariz.; a son, Asa S. III of Tucson, Ariz.; eight grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

A graveside service was held in Ferncliff Cemetery, Springfield, O. Arrangements here were under direction of the Kimble Funeral Home.

George H. Hope, 79, of Rt. 31, Hopewell, died July 27 in Amity Nursing Home, Ringoes. Mr. Hope was born in Sanbrook and lived in the Hopewell area all of his life. He was the widower of Tillie S. Hope.

Surviving are a half-sister, Mrs. Charles Ward of Flemington, and a half-brother, Wallace Reep of Columbus, O.

The service was held in the Blackwell Memorial Home, Pennington, with interment in Old School Baptist Cemetery, Hopewell.

Mrs. Helen Rowe Burroughs, 72, of Harvest Drive, Pennington, died July 27 in Princeton Medical Center. Born in Hunterdon County, she had lived for many years in Hopewell and was a member of the Calvary Baptist Church.

She is survived by her husband, Orion S. Burroughs; a son, Kenneth of Houston, Texas; a brother, Van Doren Rowe of Dunellen; and three grandchildren.

The funeral was held at the Cromwell Memorial Home in Hopewell, the Rev. Bruce Patten, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, officiating. Burial was in Prospect Hill Cemetery, Flemington.

Evelyn M. Vaughn, 845 Alexander Road, Penns Neck, died suddenly July 31 at the Princeton Medical Center. She was the wife of Archer M. Vaughn. Born in Johnsonburg, Pa., she had been a resident of Penns Neck since 1920. A registered nurse, she was a graduate of Protestant Episcopal Hospital in Philadelphia.

A member of Princeton Baptist Church in Penns Neck, Mrs. Vaughn was a deaconess of the church and a former Sunday School superintendent there.

Also surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Nancy Arceneux of Princeton Junction; a son, Thomas A. of San Francisco, Calif.; a sister Mrs. Britta King of Chicago, Ill.; a brother, Sherrill D. McCaughy of Doxner's Grove, Ill.; and five grandchildren.

The funeral will be held at Princeton Baptist Church, Penns Neck at 11 a.m. Friday with interment in Greenwood Cemetery, Trenton. Friends may call at the Kimble Funeral Home, 1 Hamilton Avenue, from 7 to 9 p.m., Thursday. In lieu of flowers contributions may be sent to the Memorial Fund, Princeton Baptist Church, Washington Avenue, Penns Neck, in memory of Evelyn M. Vaughn.

Charles H. Bollas of Yorkers, N.Y., a retired publishing executive, died suddenly July 30 in Delaware. He was the

News Of The CHURCHES

NEW MINISTER HERE

To Serve in Interim Capacity. The Rev. Willard H. Wellman began his duties as Interim Minister of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church this week.

Mr. Wellman was born in Fairbault, Minn., and went to school in Lewiston, Minnesota. He received his B.A. from Wheaton College, Ill., and his B.D. from the Reformed Episcopal Seminary in Philadelphia.

Following his ordination, Mr. Wellman served as assistant pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian Church, Philadelphia, and then as pastor of the John Chambers Memorial Presbyterian Church. He was for 21 years the pastor of Bethany Collegiate Presbyterian Church in Haverstown, Pa. For the past three years, he and his wife Virginia, have served at St. Andrew's Kirk, Georgetown, Guyana, Central America.

Mr. Wellman will be the preacher at the Summer Union Services of the Princeton Presbyterian churches on Sunday. The 8:30 a.m. service will take place in the Princeton Cemetery in a lovely open area under a giant Cedar of Lebanon tree near the Grover Cleveland marker.

Entry to the site may be gained through the main entrance on Greenview Avenue or through the gate on Wilkespoon Street. The 10 a.m. service will be in St. Andrew's.

PASTOR RESIGNS

At Lutheran Church. The Rev. Dr. Luther Krieffall has resigned from the pastorate of the Lutheran Church of the Messiah and from the chaplaincy to Lutheran students at Princeton University. He will preach his last sermon this Sunday, leaving Princeton on August 12.

Pastor Krieffall came to Princeton in August, 1964. During this time he served simultaneously in the ministry to Lutheran students in the University campus.

He served as the first chairman of the University's United Christian Ministry, an ecumenical program involving seven denominations and in 1966 as President of the Princeton Pastors' Association.

Pastor Krieffall will be living in Germany for the next year, where he will be completing a book in the field of theology and literature. The congregation is presently organizing to call another pastor.

GUEST SPEAKER SET

For Princeton Methodist. The first guest speaker for the summer at the Princeton United Methodist Church will be Dr. Richard Thomas. His sermon topic at the 10 a.m. service this Sunday will be: "The Gospel: Another Campus And 5 Years Later."

Dr. Thomas was Wesley Foundation Chaplain at Princeton University from 1958-67 following his three years' service as Air Force Chaplain.

In 1967 he received his Ph.D. in history from Rutgers and at that time he left Princeton to take a position at Cornell College, Iowa — where he is presently serving as Assistant Professor of History and Chaplain. Mrs. Charles Simons will provide special music for the service.

Father of Barclay M. Bollas, 63 College Road West, assistant director of Public Information at Princeton University and Editor of "The Princeton Athletic News."

Mr. Bollas, a graduate of New York University, was a certified public accountant. The funeral was held in Yorkers.

COUNTRY FESTIVAL SET

For Griggstown in September. Art and nature will be the theme of a Country Festival planned by Griggstown for September 16.

Residents and friends of the community along the historic Delaware-Raritan Canal have been meeting during the summer to plan a celebration that will dramatize the necessity of preserving the canal and adjoining state park as resources for hikers and nature lovers. The canal, running through one of the few remaining unspoiled areas of Central New Jersey, is currently threatened by a 2500 unit apartment project.

Artists will exhibit and sell their oil paintings, water colors and drawings. Craftsmen in the area will also show their work.

Lore Lindenfeld will give a weaving demonstration and Chuck Miley will show how he makes batik wall hangings. Woodworkers will sell doll houses, chess boards, candle holders and other individually crafted items. There will be booths for Norwegian knitting, macrame, patchwork, jewelry making, pottery, photography and tie dying.

Several unusual auctions and lotteries are planned for the Country Festival. A visitor may take a chance or bid on a tree that will be planted in his garden. Other goods and services to be offered include the painting of a room, an evaluation by a local psychiatrist, a dinner for four, and a professional photograph of a favorite subject. There will also be a flea market featuring antiques and not-so-antiques donated by residents and stores in the area.

At intervals throughout the day, a troupe of folk dancers will perform and dance with children on the green. Music will be provided by a Blue Grass group.

Griggstownners have spent much of the summer making cuttings of unusual house plants for sale at the Festival. They have also collected toys for a children's booth, books for a book sale and old and new photographs of the Millstone Valley.

Young people are collecting used sports equipment for sale and they are offering for auction their services for car washing, lawn cutting and reroofing. Other booths will sell homemade food to take home or to eat while wandering among the colorful exhibits.

Proceeds of the festival will be used to protect and preserve the rural and recreational area where only 50 years ago mules pulled barges carrying goods and travelers bound for New York.

The State Review Committee for Historic Sites has recently established the Delaware-Raritan Canal as a historic district so that the environmental, historic, and recreational values along the Canal might be protected and enhanced. Residents and their friends are working hard to help in the project.

SCHOOL MEETS GOAL

For Annual Giving. Stuart Country Day School of the Sacred Heart reports $75,125 raised in the 1971-72 annual giving appeal. The goal was $75,000.

Sister Mary C. Wheeler, director of development, stated in her report, "We are particularly happy about the increase in the number of the smaller gifts which do mount up — and which raise the percentage factor when we apply to foundations for grants."

This year, 372 donors took part, compared with 267 in 1970-71, and 76 in 1969-70, the first year of the drive. The school realized $69,217, a 1st year and 23,677 the first year.

Sister Wheeler paid tribute to George Conover's committee of the Advisory Board, "who worked long hard and effectively," and to Sister Wollington and Sister McMullen in the development office.

The two nuns have been transferred to the Newton Convent of the Sacred Heart, she announced. Sister Wollington will study in the School of Communication at Boston University and Sister McMullen will work with Spanish-speaking people in the Boston area. "We shall be hard put to replace them," she said.

ENTER YOUR CAR

In New Hope Show. The Studebaker and the antique motorcycle will join the rows of antique and classic cars for the first time in the 15th annual New Hope Automobile Show, scheduled for Saturday and Sunday, August 12 and 13.

The event will again be held on the grounds of the New Hope - Solebury High School, Route 202, New Hope, Pennsylvania. The New Hope-Solebury Community Association is the sponsor.

The community association says that 22 divisions will be judged over the two days of the show. The Governor's Cup, authorized by Governor Milton J. Shapp of Pennsylvania will be presented to the Best of Show in the Antique Automobile classification.

Saturday's entry categories include "Antique" (divided into Vintage and Production); Auburn - Cord - Duesenberg, Bugatti, Corvette, Lincoln Continental, MG "T" Register, sports cars and Thunderbird.

Sunday's competition classes are antique trucks and fire engines, classic cars, custom cars and high performance, Ferrari, Jaguar, Packard, Kaiser - Frazer, Model "A" Ford, Plymouth, Rolls - Royce, Vintage Chevrolet, and the newcomers this year, Studebaker and antique motorcycle.

Visitors who attend the show either day — hours are 10 a.m. through the afternoon — may attend the Automotive Flea Market, and browse through the collection of auto parts that will be on sale.

Application blanks for those who want to enter their cars may be obtained by writing to Mrs. Marie Casner, New Hope Automobile Show, Box 121; Mechanicsville, Pa. 18934.

CONTEMPDRARY RANCH

In "Westover," Lower Maketfield Twp.
Bucks County, Pennsylvania

Long low and luxurious is this stone and redwood ranch house nestled in over an acre of woods right on the Old Delaware Pennsylvania Canal.

A flagstone entrance foyer leads to the spacious living and dining rooms separated by a huge stone see-through fireplace. The 18' fully equipped modern cabinet kitchen has ample room for less formal dining and the large screened porch is ideal for summer entertaining, being accessible from living, dining and first-floor family room.

The four beautifully arranged bedrooms each with more than adequate closets and two handsome tiled baths assure each family member of comfortable privacy and restful relaxation.

A full basement beautifully finished in barn red panelling, laundry and 2-car built-in garage, central air conditioned, heating and carpeting are all included in this exceptional property value.

Here is splendidly secluded, but not isolated, waterfront luxury property to satisfy the most discriminating tastes.

Price $69,500

6-8 Station Drive
Princeton Junction

799-1778

A TOUCH OF CREOLE AT 9 FAIRWAY DRIVE! Just in the heart of Princeton's choice Brookstone area rests with dignity a white brick and shake colonial with a wrought iron balcony to remind one of the gracious days of yore! Built 14 years ago (when plaster walls were just becoming a luxury), the entire interior reflects the good quality not to be found too often nowadays. Space is evident everywhere but especially in the 17'x29' front-to-back living room with large windows at each end and a gas-burning, log fireplace. Comfortable dining room, paneled study, screened porch, efficient kitchen with dining area, utility room, and powder room amply round off the first floor. Upstairs features four corner bedrooms, one a master with dressing area and bath, a hall bath, and oops . . . there's a separate staircase leading to an entire suite of bedroom and bath. The basement has lots of possibilities, including a dark room. Two acres in all with a fenced almost-new Sylvan swimming pool. Lots of trees and privacy. $137,500

HOW ABOUT A FACTORY IN HOPEWELL TO CALL YOUR OWN? It's a nice spot for escaping, perfect for a studio, great storage if you need a warehouse, not bad for assembling, addressing, you-name-it! Terms. $22,500

WHY NOT BUY A MINI-ESTATE IN PRINCETON TOWNSHIP . . . AND DO IT NOW WHILE YOU AND THE KIDS CAN ENJOY IT TOGETHER! A brick two-story house rests majestically on two acres in Brookstone . . . offering 4,000 sq. ft. of living space . . . unbelievably ideal for the growing family with many hobbies and a need for privacy and breathing space. Six bedrooms. 3 1/2 baths. living room with fireplace, dining room, comfortable kitchen with many delights, family room with fireplace, den, utility room. PLUS a huge flagstone patio, two fireplaces, full basement, three-car garage, and easy elegant landscaping. Please call us for an appointment. It's vacant and lovely. Couldn't be reproduced for the asking price of $119,500, but make us an offer!

A REALLY SUPER HOUSE ON TAYLOR ROAD IN SOUTH BRUNSWICK TOWNSHIP . . . where the schools have been heralded in the Saturday Review. A cedar shake and frame colonial on almost an acre of beautiful landscaping with a fenced-in vinyl inground pool! Center hall, living room, dining room, family room with brick-walled fireplace, large eat-in kitchen with oodles of cabinets, utility room, powder room, screened porch. Upstairs features a huge master bedroom with THREE CLOSETS, dressing area and bath, three other bedrooms and hall bath. Dry basement with workbench and storage. Two-car garage. City water and sewer. Taxes: $1,557. $58,500

HARBOURTON, Hopewell Township . . . a choice estate area where you can still have a fine working farm (so great for taxes!) Here we have a hundred-acre tract prime for development or enjoyment! Two substantial houses . . . one a Victorian farm house with eleven rooms and a full basement and attic; the other a colonial cottage with stone fireplace, three bedrooms, and a stone utility building. Huge barn in terrific shape . . . pond, pasture, woods . . . 100 feet of frontage. Terms available. $250,000

PINE KNOLL, WHERE YOU CAN'T SEE THE HOUSE FOR THE TREES . . . here is one of the loveliest colonials to be offered in a long time. Especially built one foot longer than any of its neighbors . . . a frame two-story on a half acre, with tall trees, lovely yard and patio . . . beautifully decorated throughout. Foyer, living room, dining room, family room, den, eat-in kitchen, four bedrooms, two and a half baths. Air conditioned. Within walking distance of elementary school . . . and golf course! Taxes: $1,451. $52,500

HOPEWELL TOWNSHIP . . . near proposed I-95 interchange 111 acres with frontage on two roads. Woods, farm house, guest cottage, other rental property. Call for details. Terms available.

CHERRY HILL ROAD . . . two-acre wooded building lot. City utilities. $32,000. Adjacent wooded acreage with possibility of two building sites. Up to 5.7 acres in all. Price negotiable.

Our newest offering — a small brick and frame house that's fun, and perfect for the young family looking for trees, land, privacy, living room with fireplace, dining ell, good kitchen. Nice master bedroom with bath, bedroom and study (or third bedroom, second bath). Family room opening to a sunken patio. Oversized double garage. And all in top condition — even the parts that don't show. On almost an acre and a half, with woods at the rear. Excellent West Windsor schools. We think this is a cream puff that won't last long at $42,500

Summerhouse, and the living is easy — in fact, it's easy all through the year in this appealing two bedroom, three bath ranch house with its thoroughly efficient floor plan. The punched living room with fireplace and picture window, streamlined kitchen, and children's wing open off the entrance hall, while the master suite is peacefully separated from them all. The glass-enclosed dining room, which opens on a deck with built-in benches, is an attractive highlight. "Down under" there's almost a whole house worth of living space, since the entire area is above grade and blue-flashed. For an almost in-town area, the grounds are remarkably secluded. Enhanced by a wee brook and an abundance of lovely trees, the lot is as easy to look at as the house is easy to live in.

NOW OFFERED AT $65,500

REALTY CO. of PRINCETON, Inc.

Realtors

Summer can be fun this year—think of sailing or canoeing on Lake Hoeye with the starting point off from your own lot. The striking two-story offers an exceptional amount of varied living area too and most of the rooms have a view of the lake. There are two fireplaces, lovely patio and a total of five bedrooms. A beautifully kept property. $129,000

Enjoy the absolute privacy that only the very few can acquire. The woods have an overpowering sense of quiet and solitude and yet the property is not isolated. Excellent for the commuter as it is located in Princeton Junction. This Cape Cod is in mint condition inside and out—there are 3 bedrooms, screened porch off living room and the full basement is heated. For the hunter who has dogs there is a kennel with 5 runs. $42,900

You're bound to love the easy style of living in this nice Contemporary. Indoor living flows into outdoor living through the large glass sliders to a lovely patio and large swimming pool. The house is snuggled amongst large shade trees offering the privacy needed. There is a large master wing with study and 3 other bedrooms. Located conveniently in Princeton Junction. $55,000

Some dreams can't wait. This exciting rancher in Princeton Junction on a just beautifully landscaped lot with swimming pool and cabana has so much to offer for outdoor fun. The sunken family room with fireplace and built-ins is great for indoor fun. The front is of brick and it has 3 bedrooms, 1 1/2 baths. Living room separate dining room and very nice kitchen with eat-in area. $54,900

When summer simmers, you'll be cool as a cucumber in this brick front central air conditioned rancher in the Riverside section. On almost an acre of a beautifully landscaped lot. The living room with fireplace and step up dining room gives a feeling of space. The den has built-ins with a screened in porch off of it. The basement has a rumpus room and there are 3 bedrooms and 2 baths. Balcony across the rear of the house. $76,500
